DULLES WARNS AGAINST LETDOWN

Senate Committee Approves $90,000,000 Vets' Bonus Bill

House Okays Roads Plan

ANNAPOLIS, April 3 (AP) — The House of Delegates swamped scattered Democratic cries of "politics" tonight to pass a long range road building program.

The vote was 94-20 with 18 Democrats and two Republicans dissenting.

The bill sent to the Senate calls for a 12-year program subject to legislative review every four years. The estimated cost for the first four years is 130 million dollars to be financed by raising the gasoline tax from five to six cents.

Baltimore City Democrats attempted to raise the issue of politics, but other members of the party knocked it down.

"This may be called the Gov. McKeldin road program and the Democratic tax increase plan," objected Del. Dempsey (D-Balto 3rd).

"It is a pet plan of the (Republican) administration," echoed Del. Acker of the same district.

"I've been a Democrat all my life," replied Del. Boone (D-Balto County). "This is not a Republican bill and it is not a Democratic bill. It belongs to all the people.

"If passed, it will be in years to come known as Maryland's pride."

Action Is Surprise; House Due To Vote On Measure Today

ANNAPOLIS, April 3 (AP) — With bitter warnings to those who tried to shut him up, Sen. Dippel (D-Balto 3rd) voluntarily ended a Senate filibuster tonight after 77 minutes of conversation and bickering.

ANNAPOLIS, April 3 (AP) — The Finance Committee gave its approval to a $90-million-dollar veterans' bonus bill tonight and readied it for presentation to the Senate.

But the Senate was snagged by a filibuster over a mutual savings bank bill, the object of an intense scrap between two Baltimore City political factions.

And rumblings came from a group of Democratic senators that if the House did not act soon on its automatic tax reduction plan, they might tie up the 568-million-dollar roads program.

The House already has given tentative approval to the big highway improvement program, with amendments that break it down into three four-year programs and grant the Legislature more control over its application.

House Majority Leader Logan (D-Caroline) said flatly "no comment" when questioned about his Ways and Means Committee's possible action on the tax plan.

Roads Action Postponed

The roads program still is before the Senate Finance Committee. It was to have come out of committee tonight, but action was postponed at the last moment.

The committee's approval of the bonus bill came as a complete surprise. Similar bills have been in every General Assembly for the past several years, with none of them getting through.

This is the first time the committee has reported one out favorably.

The committee approved the bill, sponsored by Sen. Phoebus (R-Somerset), on the third roll call.

The first vote was for a favorable report. That also was tied.

The third time several senators swung over to report it out to give it a chance for a full airing on the floor of the Senate.

The bill, granting up to $500 bonus for every Maryland veteran of either world war and the Korean conflict, would be financed through taxes on beer, wine and whiskey.

The House Ways and Means Committee will bring its bonus bill out on the floor tomorrow.

The committee will bring out two bonus bills, both with unfavorable reports. It then will be up to the full House to accept the reports and kill the bonus question again or reverse the committee.

The committee voted 22-4 against the two bills. The bonus payments in both are similar but differ in methods of financing. One would put a tax on gross receipts of business and the other would impose a variety of taxes on race track admissions, pinball machines, juke boxes, motor vehicle registrations, bridge tolls and gasoline.

Would Cost 90 Millions

Either bonus would cost about 90 million dollars.

The Senate gave tentative approval to a hike in the state liquor taxes after wordy debate on its effect on state finances.

The bill, already passed by the House, would hike the state tax on a gallon of whiskey from $1.25 to $1.50—but at the same time would turn back 50 cents from each gallon back to the county (and Baltimore City) it was sold in.

The Senate also advanced to position for enactment a proposed

'I Want To Die,' Slayer Of Five Tells His Father

DUBUQUE, Ia., April 3 (AP)—An unemotional 18-year-old confessed slayer of five persons, who told his heart-broken father "I want to die," agreed today to waive extradition to New York State.

Meanwhile the father, Mose McManus of Valley Stream, N. Y., a brewery executive, had apparently given up all effort to induce his son, Fred Eugene, to accept legal aid.

The elder McManus broke down and sobbed after a brief but friendly meeting with the boy this morning.

Murder Warrant Issued

Fred McManus after his arrest here Tuesday night calmly admitted slaying a college student in Rochester, N. Y., two women in Minnesota and an elderly couple in Illinois.

At Rochester, a first degree murder warrant was issued today charging McManus formally with shooting the college student, William A. Braverman 19. The warrant was based on an oral confession McMarus made by telephone to New York authorities.

Sheriff Leo P. Martin's office here said that during the day young McManus signed formal confessions to the New York, Minnesota and Illinois slayings.

In Des Moines, Iowa Gov. William S. Beardsley said that in event extradition is necessary, "in all likelihood I would honor a request for extradition" to New York.

Minnesota Wants Him

He added, however, that he would "consider the other states if they make requests." He said he had received no requests for extradition as yet.

But Fillmore County, Minn., Sheriff Don Cook said extradition papers seeking return of McManus to Minnesota to face first degree murder charges in the deaths of two women at Spring Valley, would be in the hands of Minnesota Gov. E. Elmer Anderson Monday.

The two women, Mrs. David Beaston, 43, and Mrs. Harriet Horsman, 48, were shot down in a rural cafe at Spring Valley early Monday.

First Lady Buys Bonnet For Easter

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower is getting off easy as far as bills for his wife's Easter outfit is concerned.

The first lady has a new bonnet for Easter but she is wearing a suit already in her wardrobe.

The Eisenhowers will attend Easter Sunday services at the National Presbyterian Church which they joined in February.

Mrs. Eisenhower plans to wear a black taffeta suit she bought recently at the beauty salon where she goes to have her famous bangs set. This salon also has a small apparel shop.

Ex-Romanian King Dies In Portugal

LISBON, April 4 (Saturday) (INS) — The death of former King Carol (above) of Romania was officially announced early today.

The exiled former monarch succumbed at Estoril, near Lisbon, Portugal.

Former minister in the Romanian court, Marshal Urdarianu said Carol, 59, died of a heart attack at 3 a.m. Saturday. His wife, the former Magda Lupescu, was at his bedside when the former king died.

New York City Acclaims 2,000 Korean Veterans

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP) — Two thousand Korean veterans landed here today to wild, tearful acclaim —the first troopship welcome on the East Coast since World War II.

An estimated 5,000 relatives and girl friends waited with open arms as the vets piled off the transport Gen. William Weigel into a turbulent, heart - tugging jamboree of welcome.

They were impatient, these veterans who spent the night in the harbor within sight of Manhattan's towers. They were in no mood for the oratory of Army brass and politicians.

Mayor Makes Speech

"We want to go home," they shouted at military and civic speakers who delayed their debarkation.

"Let them off," chorused the relatives.

However, 350 New York area and East Coast veterans stood still long enough for an official City Hall welcome and heard Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri assure them with feeling:

"No ceremony, no homecoming has ever had greater significance."

Replied 23-year-old Sgt. 1C, John P. Donohoe, a Silver Star hero from Atlantic City, N. J., speaking for the men:

Sent To Camp Killmer

"I'm not much of a speaker. I never was. All I can say is thank you. All we can say is thank you. For the last 24 hours we enjoyed everything. So all I can say is thank you."

Then the Easterners followed the other vets to Camp Killmer, N. J., to be discharged or furloughed.

The Weigel came to Brooklyn for repairs. The Army decided to ship the veterans back with her, since most of them were from states east of the Mississippi. She was the first troop transport to return here from a war zone in eight years.

Dewey Backs Hall

ALBANY, N. Y., April 3 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York tonight threw his influence behind former Rep. Leonard W. Hall for Republican national chairman.

Russians Muzzle New Big Guns Of Red Radio Network

BONN, Germany, April 3 (AP)—The Russians appeared today to have muzzled some new big guns of the Soviet radio network in East Germany before they fired a shot.

Communist commentators sniped away at the European army plan and other phases of Western life much as they did before the Kremlin sent up the Malenkov-Molotov peace balloons, but they did their sniping with old equipment.

New Red jamming and transmitting stations which Western technicians figure are completed or far enough along to be thrown into any fresh offensive of the air waves remained mute.

United States officials said Russian experts have been working for months on powerful equipment designed to black out Western broadcasts in Communist - ruled East Germany and Poland and extend the range of Soviet broadcasts.

At least part of this equipment could have been hurled into the radio war with the West weeks ago, these officials said, and added "we have been prepared for the worst in Soviet jamming of our broadcasts."

Instead, the Soviet jamming of RIAS, the powerful American station in Berlin, has mysteriously declined in the last six weeks.

With a 300,000-watt transmitter, RIAS is the main target of Soviet radio jammers in East Germany. Officials estimate it has 20 million listeners behind the Iron Curtain.

But Radio Moscow and East German stations are still beating the tom-toms against the West, however.

Stress is placed on what Communist propagandists call the evil consequences of the proposed European army, which would permit the arming of a half million West German soldiers within a six-nation command.

Camp To Care For Wounded POWs Rushed

'Copters Mobilized For Mercy Airlift When Way Cleared

MUNSAN, Korea, Saturday, April 4 (AP)—Engineers rushed completion today of a sprawling "freedom camp" and the Eighth Army mobilized helicopters for a big mercy airlift in the hope that a quick exchange of sick and wounded prisoners will be arranged Monday at Panmunjom.

This armistice base town was bustling with activity. The "freedom camp" of tents and prefabricated buildings, complete with a mobile surgical hospital, was rising rapidly just outside town.

One week ago today, Red liaison officers handed a note to United Nations officers at Panmunjom accepting an offer for the exchange of sick and wounded, touching off a series of Communist conciliatory moves.

The latest was the disclosure Friday by the French Foreign Office in Paris that 14 French internees, held in Korea since the war began, have been freed by the Reds and are on their way home by way of Moscow.

This bolstered hopes here that liaison officers at Panmunjom Monday would encounter no major Communist obstacles in speeding the exchange of sick and wounded, clearing the way for reopening long-recessed truce talks.

Rear Adm. John C. Daniel, heading the U. N. liaison team which will go to Panmunjom, declined to predict what would result but said he hoped "the Communists mean business this time."

"I've been here since June and I would never make the mistake of being optimistic," he said.

(At Annapolis, Md., Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, who was the chief U. N. truce negotiator for 11 months, said the timing of the latest Communist conciliatory moves was encouraging but he saw enough loopholes in the offers to occupy negotiators for many more wearing sessions.)

Peiping radio devoted much time Friday to broadcasting what it said was favorable reaction both inside and outside the Iron Curtain to a proposal by Chinese Red Premier Chou En-lai Monday for settling the whole prisoner of war issue.

Chou proposed the prisoners not insisting on immediate repatriation be turned over to a "neutral state" where they might be interviewed by the interested countries—but he left unspoken what would happen after that. The Allies hold more than 50,000 Red prisoners who don't want to go back.

Father Wipes Out Family Of Four

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—A family of four were found dead today, apparently wiped out in a sudden, unexplained orgy of violence by the father, a quiet, cultured college professor.

The father, Harold A. Conner, 49, was found dead in a pool of blood. Police said he apparently strangled his wife and two children, then slashed himself fatally in the neck.

The bodies had lain undisturbed for 48 hours or more until friends became alarmed at the failure of the family to answer the telephone in their apartment.

Detectives said Conner's 43-year-old wife Selma, and the children, June, 13, and John, 11, had been strangled.

Conner was a well-liked faculty member at New York University. Friends recalled him as an unusually quiet man. He suffered a nervous breakdown several years ago, apparently as a result of his intense concentration on studies leading to his doctorate degree.

Time For Mobilization Is Now, Baruch Says

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—Financier Bernard M. Baruch said today any peace settlement with communism would be a guarded one and that this is a time for mobilization rather than reckless disarming.

The "elder statesman" and counselor to presidents told a luncheon of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces:

"We can make peace only if we make ourselves militarily strong. This would require putting on the statute books the full authority to make ourselves militarily strong—the key to any lasting peace."

Soviet Doctors Freed

"Grandma" Gets 10 Years

Mrs. Ethel Arata, 53, the grandmotherly bank bandit, leaves Federal Court in Los Angeles after receiving a sentence of 10 years in prison for robbing a bank of $257. She was nicknamed "Grandma" because of her kindly appearance, although she actually is not a grandmother. (Story below)

Stassen Gets In Step With Ike In Squabble Over Ship Deals

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Mutual Security Chief Harold E. Stassen said today he is "happy" about President Eisenhower's handling of the ruckus stemming from private deals by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) to curb trade with Red China and Soviet bloc nations.

Emerging from a Cabinet session at the White House, Stassen gave no sign of any ruffled feelings over the fact that neither Eisenhower nor Secretary of State Dulles directly backed him up in his row with McCarthy.

On the contrary, Stassen said cheerfully he agrees with Eisenhower that it would have been better for him to have used the word "infringe" instead of saying, as he did, that McCarthy had "undermined" U. S. foreign policy.

Ike's Point Of View

Eisenhower made the point at his news conference yesterday in saying he thought Stassen meant to say McCarthy had "infringed" on the Chief Executive's power to negotiate foreign agreements, rather than "undermined" it.

The President also said that however misguided McCarthy's efforts may have been, he did not believe they undermined the administrations policies.

Stassen made the "undermine" accusation in a hot face-to-face tangle with McCarthy at a televised hearing on Monday.

The foreign aid director told reporters today that developments in the last few days indicate McCarthy is now supporting the position of the State Department and the President.

McCarthy Won't "Negotiate"

That position, as set forth by Eisenhower, is that no senator or other member of Congress can negotiate on behalf of the United States because the President alone has the right to commit this country in international agreements.

Stassen said it was his understanding that McCarthy "agrees that he will not negotiate."

McCarthy himself used the word "negotiate" in his original announcement last Saturday of a pact by Greek owners of 242 ships to refrain from trade with Red China and North Korea and from hauling cargoes between Communist ports. Later he emphasized that the agreement represented "voluntary pledges" by the ship owners.

'Grandma' Bandit Given Ten Years

LOS ANGELES, April 3 (AP)—The grandmotherly bank bandit, Mrs. Ethel Arata, 53, was sentenced today to 10 years in prison for robbing a bank of $257.

In addition, Federal Judge Ernest A. Tolin placed her on probation for five years for attempted bank robbery, the probation to start after she finishes her prison term.

Mrs. Arata, daughter of the late Robert Catts, New York multimillionaire who lost his fortune in the 1929 crash, had pleaded guilty to both counts. Originally she pleaded innocent and attempted unsuccessfully to enter an additional plea of innocent because of insanity.

Three psychiatrists examined her and held she was sane at the time she committed the crimes. It was then that she changed her plea to guilty.

After her arrest last Christmas eve as she tried to hold up an Arcadia, Calif., bank with a toy pistol, she said through her attorney that she would plead innocent on the grounds that she had an uncontrollable love for the human race. She said she had given away most of the money she had stolen.

Plot Charge Found False, Russia Says

MOSCOW, Saturday, April 4 (AP)—The Soviet government announced today that 15 Soviet doctors accused in January of plotting assassination of Soviet leaders in years past have been freed and charges against them dropped.

It said the charges against them were proved false.

The announcement from the USSR Ministry of Interal Affairs said the accusers of the medical group were themselves being brought to justice.

The accusers now are charged with forbidden ways of obtaining evidence.

The announcement was carried in all Moscow newspapers this morning.

Doctors Rehabilitated

It came a week after Premier Malenkov's regime announced amnesty for certain convicts in the USSR and an overhaul of the judiciary system.

The communique declared the doctors had been completely rehabilitated after a verification had shown that documentary material on which the accusations had been based was untrue.

It added that "testimony" was obtained from the doctors by the investigating section of the former state security ministry by strictly forbidden methods.

The Soviet government — in Stalin's waning days—announced in January that nine doctors, some of them Jewish, had been charged with killing two Russian leaders and trying to kill others.

Accused Incorrectly

The announcement said the nine had confessed ending the lives of Andrei A. Zhdanov and Alexander S. Scherbakov through fault treatment of heart ailments.

Zhdanov, a leading Politburo member, died four years ago at 52. Scherbakov died seven years ago at 44.

Today's communique listed the names of 15 doctors as those falsely accused and said:

"They were arrested by the former Ministry of State Security of the USSR incorrectly and without any legal basis whatsoever."

The original list of accused doctors carried in a Soviet government announcement Jan. 13 gave the following nine:

M. S. Vovsi, V. E. Vinogradov, M. B. Kogan, B. B. Kogan, P. I. Egorov, Y. G. Etinger and G. I. Mayorov, therapeutists; A. M. Grinshtein, neurapathologist (nerve specialist), and A. E. Feldman, an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist.

Capital's Coffee Hour Dealt Blow By Administration

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration today struck its first blow at one of Washington's most popular institutions: the "coffee hour."

Secretary of the Navy Anderson ruled that in all buildings in which Navy personnel predominates, civilian employes will not be permitted to go to the cafeterias for mid-morning or mid-afternoon coffee and snacks.

The American Federation of Government Employes, an AFL union, immediately talked back. The order, it said, is a blow to government morale.

The coffee hour has come in for critical attention before. Several congressmen have protested that taxpayers' money is wasted by letting employes traipse out for coffee.

Crucifixion Commemorated As Hopes For Peace Mount

[By The Associated Press]

Christian nations around the world yesterday commemorated in Good Friday services the death of Christ on the cross.

Whether or not the coming Easter would be the landmark of another great rebirth of hope and peace, the abiding faith of Christendom rested in the promise held forth in the resurrection long ago in Jerusalem.

There, 5,000 pilgrims from many nations trod again the narrow, twisted, cobblestoned Via Dolorosa —way of the cross—from the square where Christ was condemned by Pilate to the holy sepulcher where he was buried in the first Good Friday.

Thirty men lugged two huge crosses the entire distance, and prayers, sermons and chants were recited in different languages at each of the 14 stations of the way. Jerusalem's hotels were packed with tourists.

At Vatican City half a million persons, it was estimated, visited St. Peter's Basilica where Federico Cardinal Tedeschini officiated at the solemn mass of the presanctified host.

By night, sputtering torches lighted for Rome's pilgrims another way of the cross, with its wooden crosses, up Palatine Hill.

In London 20,000 persons packed Westminster Cathedral to hear a Good Friday service by Roman Catholic Bishop Fulton J. Sheen of New York. The "television bishop" told his crowded audience to remember, if they were uncomfortable, that "Christ himself hung in a more uncomfortable position nailed to a cross for three hours."

Both hope and doubt were reflected in a Good Friday news conference by Secretary of State Dulles, who said the United States will continue to need strong defenses and allies despite the current series of Soviet peace hints.

Korean Truce Won't Remove Soviet Threat

Secretary Of State Says Basic Situation Remains Unchanged

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles strongly urged the free world today to keep up its guard even if a Korean settlement is worked out with the Communists.

He said at a news conference that as long as Soviet Russia is a heavily armed totalitarian state, run by leaders who are hostile to non-Communist countries and who have no moral scruples against violence, the rest of the world remains in great danger.

"Nothing that has happened, or which seems to me likely to happen, has changed the basic situation of danger in which we stand," Dulles said.

EDC Should Be Speeded

He added that nothing should delay or hamper the European Defense Community and other measures. At the same time he said this cautious attitude need not prevent such arrangements as a Korean prisoner exchange and he suggested that if Moscow is sincere it should follow up with a general armistice and agree to an Austrian peace treaty.

Dulles voiced his warning against a letdown in the wake of yesterday's declaration by President Eisenhower that Communist offers should be taken at face value until they are proved unworthy of confidence.

The secretary told a questioner he felt sure his general philosophy was that of the administration and did not conflict with the President's statement.

Gives Eisenhower Credit

Dulles said also that:

1. Current cold war developments are due in part to the strong position he said the Eisenhower administration has taken since the inauguration. He cited the presidential order which permits Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalists to launch any attacks they can on the Red Chinese mainland, the buildup of South Korean forces, plans to increase aid to Indochina and the joint French-American warning to the Communists last week not to start new attacks in Asia.

2. An appreciable reduction can be made in the $7,600,000,000 Truman foreign aid budget for the next fiscal year, starting July 1, without impairing essential objectives. Dulles described as unnecessary a good deal of the spending projected by these estimates.

Reds Release 14 French Civilians

PARIS, April 3 (AP) — Fourteen French civilians have been released from captivity of nearly three years in North Korea and are heading home by way of Moscow, the French Foreign Office announced today.

The release was unofficially interpreted here as a sign that the Soviet Union intends to convert into hard action at least some of its words of peace with the West and possibly as portending a more general agreement on prisoners of war in Korea.

The Frenchmen, among them the charge d'affaires in Seoul and a correspondent of the French Press Agency, were set free just a week after Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov promised to intervene with the North Koreans on their behalf.

Two Burglars Break Into Tower Of London

LONDON, April 3 (AP)—Two men broke into the burglar-proof Tower of London, where Britain's crown jewels are stored, early today—but they left empty handed.

Police gave this story:

At about 4:30 a.m. a policeman saw two men carrying packages toward a car parked near the Tower. When he approached them the men threw the packages away and ran off. In the car, the constable found 4,000 cigarettes.

He gave the alarm and the Tower was searched. The searchers found that the burglars had broken into the canteen of the Royal Fusiliers and made off with the cigarettes after failing to crack the canteen safe.

Police speculated that the burglars got into the Tower by crossing over the protective moat—which is dry—and climbing the Tower wall.

"I'm not much of a speaker. I never was. All I can say is thank you. All we can say is thank you. For the last 24 hours we enjoyed everything. So all I can say is thank you."

Then the Easterners followed the other vets to Camp Killmer, N. J., to be discharged or furloughed.

The Weigel came to Brooklyn for repairs. The Army decided to ship the veterans back with her, since most of them were from states east of the Mississippi. She was the first troop transport to return here from a war zone in eight years.

Russians Muzzle New Big Guns Of Red Radio Network

BONN, Germany, April 3 (AP)—The Russians appeared today to have muzzled some new big guns of the Soviet radio network in East Germany before they fired a shot.

Communist commentators sniped away at the European army plan and other phases of Western life much as they did before the Kremlin sent up the Malenkov-Molotov peace balloons, but they did their sniping with old equipment.

New Red jamming and transmitting stations which Western technicians figure are completed or far enough along to be thrown into any fresh offensive of the air waves remained mute.

United States officials said Russian experts have been working for months on powerful equipment designed to black out Western broadcasts in Communist - ruled East Germany and Poland and extend the range of Soviet broadcasts.

At least part of this equipment could have been hurled into the radio war with the West weeks ago, these officials said, and added "we have been prepared for the worst in Soviet jamming of our broadcasts."

Instead, the Soviet jamming of RIAS, the powerful American station in Berlin, has mysteriously declined in the last six weeks.

With a 300,000-watt transmitter, RIAS is the main target of Soviet radio jammers in East Germany. Officials estimate it has 20 million listeners behind the Iron Curtain.

But Radio Moscow and East German stations are still beating the tom-toms against the West, however.

Stress is placed on what Communist propagandists call the evil consequences of the proposed European army, which would permit the arming of a half million West German soldiers within a six-nation command.

Camp To Care For Wounded POWs Rushed

'Copters Mobilized For Mercy Airlift When Way Cleared

MUNSAN, Korea, Saturday, April 4 (AP)—Engineers rushed completion today of a sprawling "freedom camp" and the Eighth Army mobilized helicopters for a big mercy airlift in the hope that a quick exchange of sick and wounded prisoners will be arranged Monday at Panmunjom.

This armistice base town was bustling with activity. The "freedom camp" of tents and prefabricated buildings, complete with a mobile surgical hospital, was rising rapidly just outside town.

One week ago today, Red liaison officers handed a note to United Nations officers at Panmunjom accepting an offer for the exchange of sick and wounded, touching off a series of Communist conciliatory moves.

The latest was the disclosure Friday by the French Foreign Office in Paris that 14 French internees, held in Korea since the war began, have been freed by the Reds and are on their way home by way of Moscow.

This bolstered hopes here that liaison officers at Panmunjom Monday would encounter no major Communist obstacles in speeding the exchange of sick and wounded, clearing the way for reopening long-recessed truce talks.

Rear Adm. John C. Daniel, heading the U. N. liaison team which will go to Panmunjom, declined to predict what would result but said he hoped "the Communists mean business this time."

"I've been here since June and I would never make the mistake of being optimistic," he said.

(At Annapolis, Md., Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, who was the chief U. N. truce negotiator for 11 months, said the timing of the latest Communist conciliatory moves was encouraging but he saw enough loopholes in the offers to occupy negotiators for many more wearing sessions.)

Peiping radio devoted much time Friday to broadcasting what it said was favorable reaction both inside and outside the Iron Curtain to a proposal by Chinese Red Premier Chou En-lai Monday for settling the whole prisoner of war issue.

Chou proposed the prisoners not insisting on immediate repatriation be turned over to a "neutral state" where they might be interviewed by the interested countries—but he left unspoken what would happen after that. The Allies hold more than 50,000 Red prisoners who don't want to go back.

Father Wipes Out Family Of Four

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—A family of four were found dead today, apparently wiped out in a sudden, unexplained orgy of violence by the father, a quiet, cultured college professor.

The father, Harold A. Conner, 49, was found dead in a pool of blood. Police said he apparently strangled his wife and two children, then slashed himself fatally in the neck.

The bodies had lain undisturbed for 48 hours or more until friends became alarmed at the failure of the family to answer the telephone in their apartment.

Detectives said Conner's 43-year-old wife Selma, and the children, June, 13, and John, 11, had been strangled.

Conner was a well-liked faculty member at New York University. Friends recalled him as an unusually quiet man. He suffered a nervous breakdown several years ago, apparently as a result of his intense concentration on studies leading to his doctorate degree.

Time For Mobilization Is Now, Baruch Says

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—Financier Bernard M. Baruch said today any peace settlement with communism would be a guarded one and that this is a time for mobilization rather than reckless disarming.

The "elder statesman" and counselor to presidents told a luncheon of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces:

"We can make peace only if we make ourselves militarily strong. This would require putting on the statute books the full authority to make ourselves militarily strong—the key to any lasting peace."

Soviet Doctors Freed

"Grandma" Gets 10 Years

Mrs. Ethel Arata, 53, the grandmotherly bank bandit, leaves Federal Court in Los Angeles after receiving a sentence of 10 years in prison for robbing a bank of $257. She was nicknamed "Grandma" because of her kindly appearance, although she actually is not a grandmother. (Story below)

Stassen Gets In Step With Ike In Squabble Over Ship Deals

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Mutual Security Chief Harold E. Stassen said today he is "happy" about President Eisenhower's handling of the ruckus stemming from private deals by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) to curb trade with Red China and Soviet bloc nations.

Emerging from a Cabinet session at the White House, Stassen gave no sign of any ruffled feelings over the fact that neither Eisenhower nor Secretary of State Dulles directly backed him up in his row with McCarthy.

On the contrary, Stassen said cheerfully he agrees with Eisenhower that it would have been better for him to have used the word "infringe" instead of saying, as he did, that McCarthy had "undermined" U. S. foreign policy.

Ike's Point Of View

Eisenhower made the point at his news conference yesterday in saying he thought Stassen meant to say McCarthy had "infringed" on the Chief Executive's power to negotiate foreign agreements, rather than "undermined" it.

The President also said that however misguided McCarthy's efforts may have been, he did not believe they undermined the administrations policies.

Stassen made the "undermine" accusation in a hot face-to-face tangle with McCarthy at a televised hearing on Monday.

The foreign aid director told reporters today that developments in the last few days indicate McCarthy is now supporting the position of the State Department and the President.

McCarthy Won't "Negotiate"

That position, as set forth by Eisenhower, is that no senator or other member of Congress can negotiate on behalf of the United States because the President alone has the right to commit this country in international agreements.

Stassen said it was his understanding that McCarthy "agrees that he will not negotiate."

McCarthy himself used the word "negotiate" in his original announcement last Saturday of a pact by Greek owners of 242 ships to refrain from trade with Red China and North Korea and from hauling cargoes between Communist ports. Later he emphasized that the agreement represented "voluntary pledges" by the ship owners.

'Grandma' Bandit Given Ten Years

LOS ANGELES, April 3 (AP)—The grandmotherly bank bandit, Mrs. Ethel Arata, 53, was sentenced today to 10 years in prison for robbing a bank of $257.

In addition, Federal Judge Ernest A. Tolin placed her on probation for five years for attempted bank robbery, the probation to start after she finishes her prison term.

Mrs. Arata, daughter of the late Robert Catts, New York multimillionaire who lost his fortune in the 1929 crash, had pleaded guilty to both counts. Originally she pleaded innocent and attempted unsuccessfully to enter an additional plea of innocent because of insanity.

Three psychiatrists examined her and held she was sane at the time she committed the crimes. It was then that she changed her plea to guilty.

After her arrest last Christmas eve as she tried to hold up an Arcadia, Calif., bank with a toy pistol, she said through her attorney that she would plead innocent on the grounds that she had an uncontrollable love for the human race. She said she had given away most of the money she had stolen.

Plot Charge Found False, Russia Says

MOSCOW, Saturday, April 4 (AP)—The Soviet government announced today that 15 Soviet doctors accused in January of plotting assassination of Soviet leaders in years past have been freed and charges against them dropped.

It said the charges against them were proved false.

The announcement from the USSR Ministry of Interal Affairs said the accusers of the medical group were themselves being brought to justice.

The accusers now are charged with forbidden ways of obtaining evidence.

The announcement was carried in all Moscow newspapers this morning.

Doctors Rehabilitated

It came a week after Premier Malenkov's regime announced amnesty for certain convicts in the USSR and an overhaul of the judiciary system.

The communique declared the doctors had been completely rehabilitated after a verification had shown that documentary material on which the accusations had been based was untrue.

It added that "testimony" was obtained from the doctors by the investigating section of the former state security ministry by strictly forbidden methods.

The Soviet government — in Stalin's waning days—announced in January that nine doctors, some of them Jewish, had been charged with killing two Russian leaders and trying to kill others.

Accused Incorrectly

The announcement said the nine had confessed ending the lives of Andrei A. Zhdanov and Alexander S. Scherbakov through fault treatment of heart ailments.

Zhdanov, a leading Politburo member, died four years ago at 52. Scherbakov died seven years ago at 44.

Today's communique listed the names of 15 doctors as those falsely accused and said:

"They were arrested by the former Ministry of State Security of the USSR incorrectly and without any legal basis whatsoever."

M. S. Vovsi, V. E. Vinogradov, M. B. Kogan, B. B. Kogan, P. I. Egorov, Y. G. Etinger and G. I. Mayorov, therapeutists; A. M. Grinshtein, neurapathologist (nerve specialist), and A. E. Feldman, an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist.

Capital's Coffee Hour Dealt Blow By Administration

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration today struck its first blow at one of Washington's most popular institutions: the "coffee hour."

Secretary of the Navy Anderson ruled that in all buildings in which Navy personnel predominates, civilian employes will not be permitted to go to the cafeterias for mid-morning or mid-afternoon coffee and snacks.

The American Federation of Government Employes, an AFL union, immediately talked back. The order, it said, is a blow to government morale.

The coffee hour has come in for critical attention before. Several congressmen have protested that taxpayers' money is wasted by letting employes traipse out for coffee.

Crucifixion Commemorated As Hopes For Peace Mount

[By The Associated Press]

Christian nations around the world yesterday commemorated in Good Friday services the death of Christ on the cross.

Whether or not the coming Easter would be the landmark of another great rebirth of hope and peace, the abiding faith of Christendom rested in the promise held forth in the resurrection long ago in Jerusalem.

There, 5,000 pilgrims from many nations trod again the narrow, twisted, cobblestoned Via Dolorosa —way of the cross—from the square where Christ was condemned by Pilate to the holy sepulcher where he was buried in the first Good Friday.

Thirty men lugged two huge crosses the entire distance, and prayers, sermons and chants were recited in different languages at each of the 14 stations of the way. Jerusalem's hotels were packed with tourists.

At Vatican City half a million persons, it was estimated, visited St. Peter's Basilica where Federico Cardinal Tedeschini officiated at the solemn mass of the presanctified host.

By night, sputtering torches lighted for Rome's pilgrims another way of the cross, with its wooden crosses, up Palatine Hill.

In London 20,000 persons packed Westminster Cathedral to hear a Good Friday service by Roman Catholic Bishop Fulton J. Sheen of New York. The "television bishop" told his crowded audience to remember, if they were uncomfortable, that "Christ himself hung in a more uncomfortable position nailed to a cross for three hours."

Both hope and doubt were reflected in a Good Friday news conference by Secretary of State Dulles, who said the United States will continue to need strong defenses and allies despite the current series of Soviet peace hints.

Korean Truce Won't Remove Soviet Threat

Secretary Of State Says Basic Situation Remains Unchanged

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles strongly urged the free world today to keep up its guard even if a Korean settlement is worked out with the Communists.

He said at a news conference that as long as Soviet Russia is a heavily armed totalitarian state, run by leaders who are hostile to non-Communist countries and who have no moral scruples against violence, the rest of the world remains in great danger.

"Nothing that has happened, or which seems to me likely to happen, has changed the basic situation of danger in which we stand," Dulles said.

EDC Should Be Speeded

He added that nothing should delay or hamper the European Defense Community and other measures. At the same time he said this cautious attitude need not prevent such arrangements as a Korean prisoner exchange and he suggested that if Moscow is sincere it should follow up with a general armistice and agree to an Austrian peace treaty.

Dulles voiced his warning against a letdown in the wake of yesterday's declaration by President Eisenhower that Communist offers should be taken at face value until they are proved unworthy of confidence.

The secretary told a questioner he felt sure his general philosophy was that of the administration and did not conflict with the President's statement.

Gives Eisenhower Credit

Dulles said also that:

1. Current cold war developments are due in part to the strong position he said the Eisenhower administration has taken since the inauguration. He cited the presidential order which permits Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalists to launch any attacks they can on the Red Chinese mainland, the buildup of South Korean forces, plans to increase aid to Indochina and the joint French-American warning to the Communists last week not to start new attacks in Asia.

2. An appreciable reduction can be made in the $7,600,000,000 Truman foreign aid budget for the next fiscal year, starting July 1, without impairing essential objectives. Dulles described as unnecessary a good deal of the spending projected by these estimates.

Reds Release 14 French Civilians

PARIS, April 3 (AP) — Fourteen French civilians have been released from captivity of nearly three years in North Korea and are heading home by way of Moscow, the French Foreign Office announced today.

The release was unofficially interpreted here as a sign that the Soviet Union intends to convert into hard action at least some of its words of peace with the West and possibly as portending a more general agreement on prisoners of war in Korea.

The Frenchmen, among them the charge d'affaires in Seoul and a correspondent of the French Press Agency, were set free just a week after Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov promised to intervene with the North Koreans on their behalf.

Two Burglars Break Into Tower Of London

LONDON, April 3 (AP)—Two men broke into the burglar-proof Tower of London, where Britain's crown jewels are stored, early today—but they left empty handed.

Police gave this story:

At about 4:30 a.m. a policeman saw two men carrying packages toward a car parked near the Tower. When he approached them the men threw the packages away and ran off. In the car, the constable found 4,000 cigarettes.

He gave the alarm and the Tower was searched. The searchers found that the burglars had broken into the canteen of the Royal Fusiliers and made off with the cigarettes after failing to crack the canteen safe.

Police speculated that the burglars got into the Tower by crossing over the protective moat—which is dry—and climbing the Tower wall.

Specialists See 6½ Billion Deficit

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—The present outlook is for a deficit at the end of the fiscal year, on June 30, of about 6½ billion dollars—about one-half a billion more than was expected, according to government fiscal specialists.

That would add half a billion dollars to the public debt, making it $264,400,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year instead of the projected $263,900,000,000.

Two specialists, who asked not to be named, came up with identical conclusions in separate interviews today. They both based their prediction of a half a billion dollar increase in the deficit on what they considered the lowest possible estimates, not the highest.

The highest estimates they gave would indicate a deficit about a billion dollars more than President Truman predicted in his final budget, or nearly seven billion dollars.

The chief expenditure item pushing the deficit prospect upward, according to the specialists, is heavy outlays for farm price supports. The Commodity Credit Corporation, which makes farm loans, and buys farm products to support prices, has already spent just over one billion dollars, althogth it was budgeted for the entire fiscal year at 801 million.

The specialists estimated that CCC outlays would probably mount to somewhere between 1½ billion and $1,900,000,000 by the end of the fiscal year.

Russian Peace Talk Called NATO Threat

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther said today the Russian peace talk "could make it tough to keep the NATO alliance together."

The chief of staff of the Western military alliance said at a Pentagon news conference the Soviets are undoutbedly making a "major effort to isolate us from our allies," particularly because what the Russians are now saying "is something all of us would like to believe."

Gruenther is returning to headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in France today after several weeks at home.

Coroner Dr. Frederick H. Mucklinhoupt said Frederick Williams died of suffocation.

Mrs. Merle Williams said her son apparently closed himself into the empty unconnected refrigerator. She said it was a new machine which never had been used.

Phoebus Puts Off Naming Lobbyist

ANNAPOLIS, April 3 (AP) — Sen. Phoebus (R-Somerset) indicated tonight that an official of the state government is the "mystery man" he has accused of "engaging in disgraceful and disgusting lobbying while pretending to work under a different cloak."

But the veteran senator postponed the naming of the "well-known" Marylander for at least another day.

"Good Friday is a holy day," Phoebus said. "We should all be good, humble and kind today and love our enemies. I wouldn't want to speak unkindly of someone on Good Friday."

Earlier today Phoebus promised he would disclose the man's name from the floor of the Senate and tell of his activities at the first opportunity.

"He's the highest paid lobbyist in the state," the senator said, "and he's not even registered in the Secretary of State's office."

Leaking Gasoline Touches Off Alarms

BALTIMORE, April 3 (AP)—About 800 gallons of gasoline leaked out of a filling station storage tank into the sewer system of the Overlea section early today but the trouble was cleared up before there were any explosions.

Hundreds of residents in the area were wakened by the fumes. Their alarms touched off a frantic two-hour search for the source.

Firemen flooded the sewer system with hoses for more than three hours until the danger of explosions was dissipated. Fumes still were noticeable two hours later. Emergency crews asked some householders to turn off their oil burners and electric refrigerators.

Mother Hurls Two Tots Out Window; One Dies Instantly

NEW YORK, April 3 (INS)—A three-year old New York boy was killed today and his month-old brother was critically injured when their 27-year-old mother threw them out of the window of their fourth-floor apartment.

Victims of the tragedy were Kenneth Maier, who died instantly, and his infant brother, Michael, who was rushed to Lincoln Hospital.

Police said Mrs. Ann Maier, mother of three other children, was babbling incoherently when taken into custody in her apartment.

President Praises Sunday Schools

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—President Dwight D. Eisenhower today praised the nation's Sunday schools for teaching children the rules and values of their faith.

In a letter to Harry A. Bullis, chairman of National Sunday School Week, Eisenhower noted the ninth annual observance of the week would be April 13-19 and said "I hope that observance of this week will help increase the number of those now actively participating in the Sunday schools of America."

Eisenhower said the Sunday schools aided in passing to children "the abiding values today so fiercely challenged by the enemies of freedom."

Phoebus Puts Off Naming Lobbyist

ANNAPOLIS, April 3 (AP) — Sen. Phoebus (R-Somerset) indicated tonight that an official of the state government is the "mystery man" he has accused of "engaging in disgraceful and disgusting lobbying while pretending to work under a different cloak."

But the veteran senator postponed the naming of the "well-known" Marylander for at least another day.

"Good Friday is a holy day," Phoebus said. "We should all be good, humble and kind today and love our enemies. I wouldn't want to speak unkindly of someone on Good Friday."

Earlier today Phoebus promised he would disclose the man's name from the floor of the Senate and tell of his activities at the first opportunity.

"He's the highest paid lobbyist in the state," the senator said, "and he's not even registered in the Secretary of State's office."

Leaking Gasoline Touches Off Alarms

BALTIMORE, April 3 (AP)—About 800 gallons of gasoline leaked out of a filling station storage tank into the sewer system of the Overlea section early today but the trouble was cleared up before there were any explosions.

Hundreds of residents in the area were wakened by the fumes. Their alarms touched off a frantic two-hour search for the source.

Firemen flooded the sewer system with hoses for more than three hours until the danger of explosions was dissipated. Fumes still were noticeable two hours later. Emergency crews asked some householders to turn off their oil burners and electric refrigerators.

Mother Hurls Two Tots Out Window; One Dies Instantly

NEW YORK, April 3 (INS)—A three-year old New York boy was killed today and his month-old brother was critically injured when their 27-year-old mother threw them out of the window of their fourth-floor apartment.

Victims of the tragedy were Kenneth Maier, who died instantly, and his infant brother, Michael, who was rushed to Lincoln Hospital.

Police said Mrs. Ann Maier, mother of three other children, was babbling incoherently when taken into custody in her apartment.

President Praises Sunday Schools

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—President Dwight D. Eisenhower today praised the nation's Sunday schools for teaching children the rules and values of their faith.

In a letter to Harry A. Bullis, chairman of National Sunday School Week, Eisenhower noted the ninth annual observance of the week would be April 13-19 and said "I hope that observance of this week will help increase the number of those now actively participating in the Sunday schools of America."

Eisenhower said the Sunday schools aided in passing to children "the abiding values today so fiercely challenged by the enemies of freedom."

Fells Tree, Kills Wife

DEXTER, Ore., April 3 (AP) — A young logger felled a tree today, and it crashed down on his wife who had gone into the woods to be with him for a picnic lunch. She was killed outright.

The logger, Keith Luckey Stratton, 19, said the tree was crooked and did not fall as he had expected.

Easter Day

Tomorrow we shall celebrate again, with all the bright and joyous panoply of Easter, the climax of the miraculous story that gave rise to the Christian religion. For the Gospels reveal that on the third day from the crucifixion Jesus rose from the dead, to appear again in the flesh to those who had believed in Him during His ministry. But for their faith that He lived, there would have been no Christian church.

There would have been no Christian church because they were the church. The Gospels contain various accounts of the Resurrection but they all testify that soon after the death of Jesus there came into existence a body of men and women who believed that He lived despite the Cross.

They were faithful to His teachings, ready to preach His message, willing to suffer for His sake if need be. Doing all these things, they founded that fellowship that was to shake the world—and shakes it still.

It is strange that those first Christians should have acquired this belief in the risen Jesus. The Gospels leave no doubt that they were in utter despair at His death; they had no thought then that He could conquer the grave. It was only afterwards, after it was all over and finished, that they refused to credit what they had seen and believed what they hoped. Still more strange, as time went on the hope deepened into the concept of the Holy Spirit, with whose help they went out to save mankind.

Men today may interpret the story, and its wonders, in different ways. But on Easter Day the lesson is clear that darkness can no more swallow up the light than death can win a final victory. As we hear the triumphant "He is risen!" we know that no tomb can imprison the truth—that the spirit can roll away the heaviest stone.

Free State For Free Press

The Maryland Senate was called upon Thursday to decide if a muzzle should be put on freedom of the press by means of a law prohibiting state's attorneys and law enforcement officers from talking about cases before they come to trial.

By a narrow margin, 14-12, the proposal was defeated and Maryland continues to have a free press as determined by the Bill of Rights of the federal Constitution and by our state's own Constitution.

The Cumberland News was heartened to learn that one of the senators voting against this so-called "gag rule" was Allegany County's Senator Robert B. Kimble, minority leader in the upper house of the state legislature. For his respect of the freedoms that help keep America free, The News extends its thanks to Senator Kimble.

Population Grows

Population of the country continues to grow at a rate of approximately 1½ per cent a year, according to a report of the United States Census Bureau, which estimates the nation gained 3.4 per cent in population between April 1, 1950, date of the last census, and July 1 last. Thirty-eight states and the District of Columbia gained in population in the 27-month period. Nine states showed losses, and one remained stationary.

The pattern of population growth established in the 1940-50 decade continued with little variation. California's 804,000 gain was again the largest, followed by Texas with 477,000, New York with 348,000, Michigan with 337,000 and Florida with 329,000. States which lost population were Alabama, Arkansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, Tennessee, West Virginia, Maine, Vermont and North Dakota. Montana's population remained stationary.

Arizona, Nevada and Florida showed the largest relative increase, with gains of more than 10 per cent. New York, the most populous state, now has 15,179,000 population. California has tightened its hold on the No. 2 spot seized in 1950 with a total of 11,390,000, followed by Pennsylvania, with 10,667,000; Illinois, with 8,918,000; Texas, with 8,189,000, and Ohio, 8,174,000.

Promotions And Ulcers

It seems too bad, but capacity alone does not determine how high a man can rise in industrial management. He must have something else, according to a lecture delivered to the American Academy of General Practice, meeting at St. Louis. Prof. C. D. Selby of the University of Michigan Medical School says that he must have a stomach able to resist peptic ulcers.

This is not exactly funny, though some funsters seem to think that ulcers are comic. Dr. Selby says the worry factor in industrial jobs evidently has much to do with the incidence of ulcers. The attack rate increases with the responsibility wrapped up with the job until it reaches 18 per cent in the management group.

What Professor Selby seems to be saying is that people who worry themselves into ulcers will not be able to hold down top managerial posts if they get them. And whether or not this kind of stomach trouble is psychosomatic, people who are subject to it ought to take it into account when they choose their occupations. In fact, Professor Selby recommends that placement procedure "take into consideration the possibilities of promotion and the stress features of the jobs ahead."

That last bit of advice seems to be directed at employers. But employes would be wise to heed it, too. Otherwise they may find themselves ruing the day they rise beyond the jobs that were well within their talents and into others their stomachs cannot take.

The Worm Turns

Raymond E. Heald, a farmer near Danville, Ind., recently found himself in possession of a couple of bushels of tin cans and empty bottles through the courtesy of an anonymous donor. The fellow had driven along the road, found a likely spot, and dumped the stuff.

Apparently this wasn't the first time it had happened to farmer Heald. But this time he decided to do something about it. He gathered up the trash, drove into Plainfield, the county seat, and dumped the stuff in front of the town hall.

He was arrested by the amazed Plainfield police, and now a jury which included eight farmers has acquitted him. To be sure, this was a protest verdict, and didn't pretend to correct the evil which the law envisaged. But it is an indication of the state of mind of people who live along the highways toward those who pick a roadside spot for a dumping ground.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

New Drugs And Mixtures Of Old

In the last decade so many new drugs have been introduced that most pharmacies would need an adjoining warehouse to carry every preparation available on the market. Furthermore, it is all the physician can do to keep up with the latest remedy for this or that disease, left alone remember the fancy trade names of these products. Even the pharmacist is in need of a good catalog or reference book.

In 1951, for example, according to a report by Paul de Haen, 322 new pharmaceuticals were introduced by 86 manufacturing firms. But among these, there were only 35 different single chemicals. In other words, 11 per cent were originals and the remainder were duplications of single or compounded chemicals. Some also represented old reliables that came out in a new size or dosage. Also tabulated as new were mixtures of known drugs marketed under a modern name. This ought to be kept in mind whenever a newcomer is announced. In this regard it is important to distinguish between a really new drug, such as penicillin which appeared in 1943 and an old substance that was resurrected, refined, or polished up and presented as an original creation.

Among the thousands of bottles on the shelves of every drug store, however, are several potent and valuable products. These are the real representatives of progress and include such headliners as our antibiotics (penicillin, streptomycin, erythromycin, terramycin, and others) as well as the antihistaminics, hormones, vitamins, narcotics, and barbiturates. No one questions the value of these remedies; they are specific and live up to their claims. It is no wonder that the American Druggist's fortnightly prescriptions survey for January shows that the most frequent prescription is for an antibiotic; with the barbiturates, antihistaminics, narcotics, and vitamins next. The sequence varies from month to month depending upon the needs. Antibiotic sales were at an all-time high in the recent influenza epidemic.

Druggists also classify their medications by use. According to this survey, most of the persons who needed drugs must have had an infection of some kind. Sedatives and hypnotics were next, showing that almost as many persons were bothered with insommia, nervousness, and anxiety or were in need of medication to lower blood pressure or relieve pain. Then came skin and cough preparations and antispasmodics. No. 6 comprised the internal analgesics such as aspirin. The inference is that millions must suffer from headache, arthralgia, or other types of aches and pains. Allergy also is a troublesome disorder because drugs for this purpose ranked seventh on the list. Ordinary hormones such as thyroid came next, followed by eye preparations and stimulants.

Specific drugs for heart disease were No. 11. Because the antispasmodics and sedatives also are used for cardiovascular disorders there is a good possibility that a different classification might raise the amount of money spent on the "old ticker." It is not surprising to find tonics, antacids, and cathartics near the bottom; these compounds have had their day.

STAY WARM

N. T. writes: Is it all right to take a bath when a person has a cold?

REPLY

Yes, but keep the bathroom warm and avoid chilling.

CORONARY THROMBOSIS

P. W. writes: Can a young person have a coronary attack?

REPLY

Yes, but this heart disturbance is more common in the 50-70 age group. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on coronary thrombosis.

MORE SUPPORT NEEDED

J. H. writes: Is it harmful for children to wear sneakers all day?

REPLY

With our modern hard sidewalks, streets, and floors, tennis shoes are not firm enough to support the arches. For this reason they should be worn only for play.

STIFF NECK

M. W. writes: Can the neck be afflicted with arthritis?

REPLY

Yes. The vertebrae in this area frequently play host to this condition. The neck also is vulnerable to injury which leads to traumatic arthritis.

HUNGER PANGS

A. C. writes: What causes attacks of hunger between meals? I sometimes get such funny feelings I think I'll collapse before I eat.

REPLY

Decrease in the sugar content of the blood will do this. These attacks can be overcome by eating more proteins and fats, which have greater staying powers than sugars.

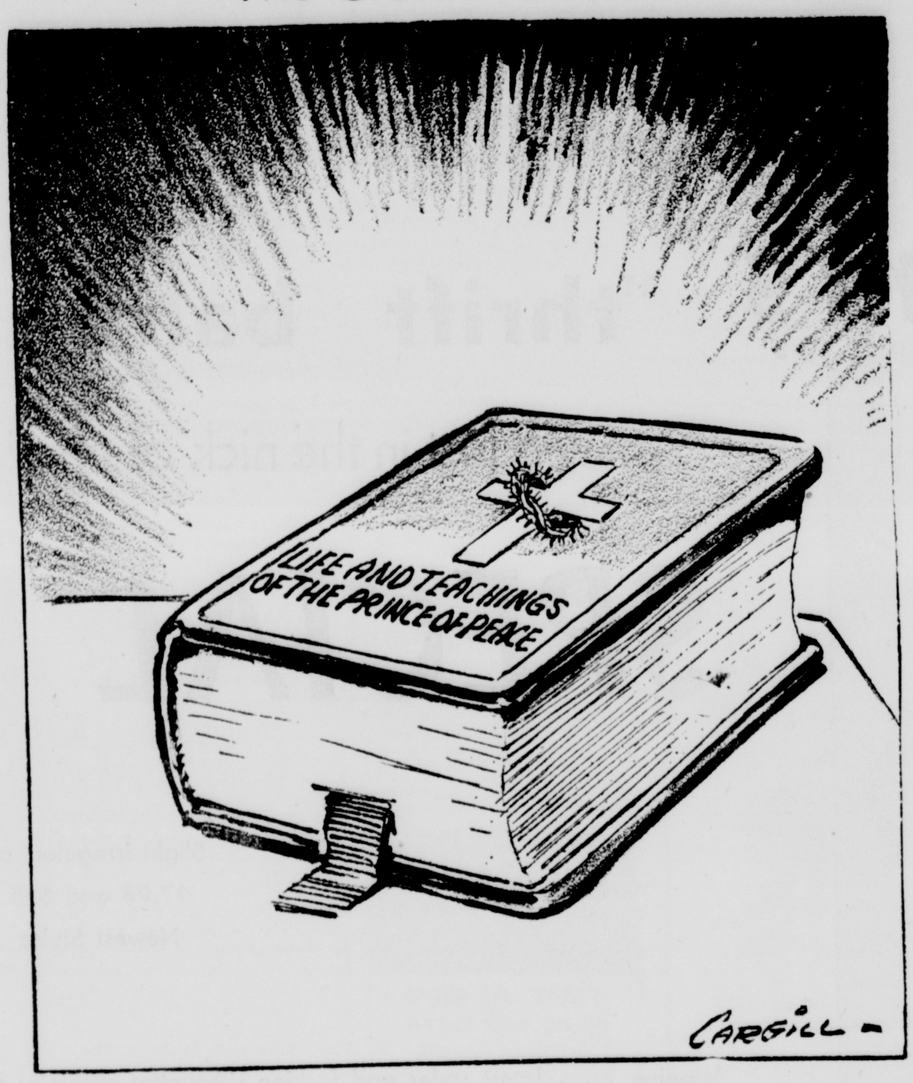

GROWTHS

W. B. writes: What is the difference between cancer and tumor?

REPLY

Both are growths but not all tumors are cancerous.

Folsom Deserts Eisenhower's Tax Stand; Duff Fights Losing Battle For Wilson Cabinet Widow; Malone Hurries To Give Away Public Lands

WASHINGTON—It isn't supposed to be known, but a Treasury spokesman backed down on his chief in the White House the other day over the important question of cutting taxes.

President Eisenhower is firmly on record against cutting taxes at this time. He has made it very clear he opposes New York Congressman Dan Reed's bill to slash income taxes before the budget is balanced. However, when Undersecretary of the Treasury Marion Folsom was questioned privately about Reed's bill, he did not support his chief.

Folsom, ex-treasurer of the Eastman Kodak Company, was kept after a House Ways and Means hearing to answer questions about tax cuts.

"What position do you take on the excess-profits tax?" asked Louisiana's Congressman Hale Boggs. "Do you think it should be continued or permitted to expire?"

"Our position on the excess-profits tax is that it is a very bad tax, and we would like to get rid of it as soon as we can," replied Folsom.

This is in direct opposition to Folsom's boss, President Eisenhower, who is against wiping out the excess-profits tax before personal income taxes are reduced. Otherwise it would appear that the Republicans favored big business.

"Then what position do you take on H. R. -?" pursued Congressman, referring to Dan Reed's bill cutting income taxes.

"We don't want to take any position now," hedged the Treasury official.

"So far you are not against it?" pressed Boggs.

"No," admitted Folsom.

Hearts And Politics

Big, gruff, Sen. Jim Duff of Pennsylvania, one of the ablest solons on Capitol Hill, isn't saying anything about it, but he isn't too happy about the treatment he gets from the White House.

Duff happens to have been the very first Eisenhower supporter. When most people were saying that Ike wouldn't run, Duff was out beating the bushes, drumming up delegates for the aloof general in Paris. He made speech after speech, all over the U.S.A., saying that Eisenhower was the only candidate who could win for the Republicans.

Since the elections, however, Duff was not appointed to the cabinet, seldom invited to the White House. On policy matters on Capitol Hill he is rarely consulted.

The senator from Pennsylvania has said nothing, is not the complaining kind, has asked no favors.

The other day, however, Duff, who believes you should have a heart in politics, did go to the White House to ask one favor. He called on Gov. Sherman Adams to request that a fellow Pennsylvanian, Mrs. A. Mitchell Palmer, be continued in her job with the General Services Administration.

Mrs. Palmer happens to be the sole surviving widow of the Woodrow Wilson cabinet. Her late husband, a prominent Pennsylvanian, was Wilson's attorney general, and Mrs. Palmer in latter years has held an obscure position in the General Services Administration.

Penniless Republicans

When Franklin D. Roosevelt took office in 1933, the Democrats found several Republicans in sinecure jobs, among them President Harding's old secretary, George Christian, and Mrs. Harding's brother, O. M. P. Brown, both members of the Shipping Board.

At first they were slated to be axed. However, it was discovered that Christian was almost blind, could get no work elsewhere, and Roosevelt continued him. Mrs. Harding's brother was also continued.

Later, another Republican, ex-Sen. Shortridge of California, was found half-starving on the streets of San Francisco at the age of 65. He was also given a job by the Democrats.

But when Senator Duff, Republican, called at the White House to ask that the widow of a Democratic cabinet member be continued in a minor post drawing $5,000, he got little satisfaction.

Sherman Adams appeared to concur; but, two days later, Mrs. Palmer was fired. Her phone was cut off, her desk moved out, and she was told she was no longer needed.

This and various other things have led Duff to the conclusion that he'll probably run for governor of Pennsylvania next year. If so, Pennsylvania Democrats, who now control Philadelphia for the first time in 70 years, will try to send either peppery Hugh Dilworth or ex-Sen. Francis Myers to Washington to take his place—and Ike may be one short on his already slim Senate majority.

Giving Away Public Land

Nevada's GOP Sen. George Malone is in such a hurry to turn the public range lands over to the big Western cattle and sheep men that he actually announced the firing of the government's land management boss before President Eisenhower got around to doing it.

The official in question is Malone's fellow Nevadan, Marion Clawson, who has continued on the job, though expecting to be replaced as soon as the Republicans can find a successor.

"I see that they are firing (Clawson)" remarked Malone, behind closed doors of the Senate Interior Committee, "and that is a good start. He is from Nevada, too, but, as far as I am concerned, he is a lost soul. He doesn't have any more idea how the stockmen west of the Rockies make a living than a hog does about drinking holy water. . . ."

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Freedom And Rebirth

Easter reminds us of the changelessness of nature, which moves in an orderly cycle. True, one may be disappointed over a rainy or a cold Easter Sunday, just as in northern climates a Christmas that is not white leaves something to be hoped for next year.

Many of the most impressive holy days, whether among primitive or the most highly civilized peoples, occur during the solstices, those periodic moments in an eternal rhythm of life. In the spring comes, for the Christians, Easter; for the Jews, the Passover.

Easter ushers in the rebirth of nature, the reappearance of grass, the early spring flowers, the budding of trees, the return of the robin. Of course, this is limited to our North Temperate world. In other climates, the rebirth manifests itself in other ways, but everywhere the cyclic rhythm of life, of all that lives, is changeless, eternal, constant.

It is a witnessing of the Divine Intelligence which controls the universe. Sceptical as a scientific age may choose to be, it has never produced evidence that the universe is an accident; that there are no causes for nature's resistance to the unusual. The scientist is already becoming conscious of the perils in unsettling the balance of nature, a balance so fine that tampering with it can produce disaster.

The Passover saga has to do with the constant struggle between slavery and freedom, between the dignity of man and his reduction to a clod. Year after year, for thousands of years, the story of the exodus of the Jews from slavery in Egypt to the freedom of natural law—to God's revealed law as handed down on Mount Sinai—is repeated that all may remember that freedom has not always existed but is a gift to man from God to be guarded, protected, defended. Freedom is an imperishable treasure.

Easter is the promise of the Eternal Life. Jesus died and was resurrected from the dead. There is no death; there is only life eternal. Easter is a gay, a cheering, a hope-giving holiday.

Its story is one of the most tragic in history. Jesus sits with His friends and disciples, celebrating the Passover, eating the matzoh and of the paschal lamb and the bitter herbs to remind them of the struggle from slavery to freedom. I have myself attended just such a table practically every year of my life, the last time being on Monday night of this week. The customs are identical; the service not radically different.

As is habitual, on such an occasion, men discourse after the meal on many topics and Jesus and His disciples spoke of important subjects. It was on this occasion that Jesus said:

". . . These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full. This is my commandment: that ye love one another, as I have loved you. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you. Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you . . ."

Then Jesus was arrested, tried, and crucified as was the custom of the Romans. And on the third day after His death, He was resurrected.

The concept of the resurrection, the rebirth, is the eternity of life. Paul, who was the first internationalist in the sense that he insisted that all mankind were brothers in the fatherhood of God, said:

"Even as Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness. Know ye therefore that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham. And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, 'In thee shall all nations be blessed.' . . ."

God's mercy is for all mankind, without distinction. Even in time of chaos and disturbance, when men do not seem to know what to do, the promise of freedom in the Passover and of the Eternal Life in Easter gives hope of glories to come—for where is faith, there must be hope.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — An era of "talk" which may last for a year or more, with proposals for an over-all settlement of vital questions between the East and West—but on terms to be dictated by Moscow—is the real meaning of the maneuvers of the last few days by Soviet Russia.

The big bait to be dangled before the Western Allies is an end to the fighting in Korea. This move is calculated to sweep the Western countries with such psychological force as to pave the way for the "peace at any price" stage which Moscow has been awaiting ever since the Korean War broke out.

The key to the riddle is to be found in re-examining the circumstances under which Jacob Malik, in June 1951, proposed a truce in Korea. Coincident with his announcement came inspired dispatches from Moscow indicating that Korea was merely a part of the over-all problem and that the Soviet Union desired a comprehensive settlement.

Built Up Stockpiles

But the Moscow move failed because the Western Allies didn't give an inch either on the Austrian treaty or in their efforts toward the building of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Europe. So Moscow just allowed things to drift along while the Red Chinese brought in reinforcements and amassed bigger stockpiles of planes and munitions for the Korean War. From a military standpoint the Communists are stronger in the Far East and stronger in Europe than they were in January 1951.

It has always been a puzzle as to why Soviet Russia would react so mildly to what was happening in Europe—namely, the emergence of NATO and later the European defense army, both of which steps were close to Russia's threshold — while pretending at least to be giving much attention to what was happening in Asia.

But now, with the ratification of the European defense pact by the lower house in Germany and the probability that American diplomacy can bring France into line, the time has come for Russia to start a delaying and retarding movement.

Since inside Germany, France, and Britain are strong Socialist movements which while not pro-Communist, are nevertheless in favor of peace with the Soviet Union at almost any price, the Moscow strategists know that a spectacular bid for peace at this time may kill the European defense army altogether and possibly weaken the NATO military setup. Budgets everywhere are bigger than tax receipts, and the people in each country are clamoring for relief from heavy taxes.

The emphasis which the West has placed on deeds as against words has probably impressed Moscow. This time the Soviet Union and Red China are ready to stop the actual fighting. It does not cost them anything in prestige to do so, because the situation is exactly the same militarily as it was in June 1950, when the Korean War broke out. North Korea is occupied by the Communists and will stay that way during a protracted period of futile negotiations in which the Western Allies will call in vain for the withdrawal of Communist forces from North Korea and for the unification of the country.

Red Buildup Likely

It will be interesting to see whether the major nations will "sell out" South Korea—which has been making nearly all the sacrifices of blood and treasure—to get a paper pledge of a unified and independent country, or whether the Allies, though talking about unification, will refuse to withdraw Allied forces until all Communist troops are withdrawn. For, once the fighting stops, the leverage against the North Korean puppets and the Red Chinese will be gone unless South Korea becomes strong enough to be a potentially powerful striking force.

So Moscow is ready to start over-all peace talks, and this means endless conversations on everything, involving Europe as well as Asia. During that period there will be an increasing military effort made behind the iron curtain and a bold attempt to get East-West trade started so as to obtain strategic materials and machinery for further armament efforts.

The Moscow regime is prepared to barter and bargain, of course. It will halt the fighting in Korea, give up Allied prisoners, and start negotiation of questions to be discussed by the so-called "political" conference. These involve the broad questions of Korea's future. In return for having given up the prisoners and the stoppage of fighting, Soviet Russia will then ask for admission of Red China into the United Nations and a reopening of East-West trade in all commodities, including strategic materials.

The Soviets are doubtless being advised by Anglo-Saxon Communists in their midst that it is unwise to try to impose conditions ahead of time and that it is better to give up the prisoners, halt the hostilities, and then be in a position to get a reopening of trade and admission of Red China to the U.N., for this is really the British and continental viewpoint.

Drive Hard Bargain

It is when the conferences start on the "Political" level that the world will witness a repitition of some of the interminable bickering which has characterized many conferences of foreign ministers held with Moscow diplomats since 1945. The Russians drive a hard bargain and, if they can keep continental Europe from rearming, they may agree to a few concessions—possibly even to discuss the idea of reuniting East and West Germany. This would be effective bait inside Germany as Bonn dispatches have already indicated.

So the big game has begun, and it does look as if the trump card of the Russians is to stop the Korean fighting and then point to a "deed" and ask for further agreements that will give the Soviet Union and Red China time to build up their munitions plants and their armies and air forces.

Just as many people in the world believed that Hitler meant peace at Munich in 1938, so many will believe the same thing now as Russia holds forth an olive branch. But the end result will be the same—the Kremlin will be a threat to the peace of the world until it is crumbled from within or through pressure exerted through satellite countries. The talks, however, will go on among the top-level diplomats till the world is finally disillusioned about the evil men who rule in Moscow today.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP

Malenkov's Molasses

WASHINGTON

The Soviet rulers probably actually do want to end the fighting in Korea. Moreover, the Korean move may portend a new Soviet policy line which will subject the mettle of the West to a test at least as severe as the Korean War itself. This about sums up the majority view of the experts who have been studying the recent signs and portents from Moscow.

There are, of course, plenty of different theories as to why the Soviets may want to end the Korean War. But the theory most generally favored starts with the death of Joseph Stalin and the coming to power of Georgi M. Malenkov.

Stalin was an old man, with his roots in the period of Russian revolutionary ferment. However much he may have diverged from Communist doctrine in practice, Stalin was deeply imbued with the doctrinaire rigidity of the old revolutionary. This rigidity has repeatedly saved the West. A less violent policy might well have brought the Communists to power in Western Europe after the war. Stalin could have wrecked the Marshall Plan simply by joining it. The Soviet-engineered Czech coup awoke the West, and the Korean War alerted the West again, after it had gone comfortably to sleep in the Louis Johnson era. And so on.

War Threatens Malenkov

Malenkov is a young man, and he is not a revolutionary at all. He is a practical expert in the art of seizing and exercising power in the modern slave-state. Moreover, he has nothing but contempt for doctrine. In a speech he delivered in 1946, Malenkov savagely attacked the Soviet theoreticians and doctrinaire intellectuals—"people who have quotatoins from Marx and Engels ready for every purpose and every pretext."

No one believes that Malenkov's objectives will differ in essence from Stalin's. But this ruthless, intensely practical man, more flexible than his aged predecessor, may use different means to the same end. Malenkov's immediate objective, of course, like Stalin's after Lenin's death, is to consolidate his own regime.

The war in Korea involves a real threat to Malenkov's regime, especially because Malenkov still lacks Stalin's prestige within the Soviet empire. Malenkov cannot rule out the possibility that the new American administration will adopt measures to bring to bear increased military pressure to end the war, and thus enlarge the area of conflict. In this case, Malenkov would have to choose between dishonoring commitments made by Stalin to China, the major Soviet satellite, or becoming directly involved in conflict with the United States. Either course might fatally weaken Malenkov's hold on power. At the same time, the new American policy of "disengaging" American ground troops has reduced the practical value of the Korean War to the Kremlin.

As for Malenkov's ultimate objectives, they are, like Stalin's, to weaken the West and eventually to rule it. But where Stalin used vinegar to catch such flies as he caught, the more flexible Malenkov may have understood the practical value of using molasses.

Opens Up Opportunities

A Korean truce, if it comes, will unquestionably greatly stimulate the already existing tendency to slacken off the Western defense effort. Moreover, the Western Allies have refused to negotiate directly with the Soviet, as long as the Korean fighting was in progress; but an end to the fighting will open up all sorts of opportunities for Soviet political and diplomatic maneuvers.

For example, the Soviet commander in Germany, Gen. Vassily Chuikov, has already called for a four power conference to negotiate a Germany treaty, and if a Korean truce is agreed to, such an offer could hardly be refused. Negotiations on a German peace treaty would almost inevitably halt in its tracks the efforts to create a European army capable of defending Europe.

Finally, there is the chance of an American depression, resulting from a slackened defense effort, a possibility which the Soviet rulers have long borne eagerly in mind.

Easter Day

Tomorrow we shall celebrate again, with all the bright and joyous panoply of Easter, the climax of the miraculous story that gave rise to the Christian religion. For the Gospels reveal that on the third day from the crucifixion Jesus rose from the dead, to appear again in the flesh to those who had believed in Him during His ministry. But for their faith that He lived, there would have been no Christian church.

There would have been no Christian church because they were the church. The Gospels contain various accounts of the Resurrection but they all testify that soon after the death of Jesus there came into existence a body of men and women who believed that He lived despite the Cross.

They were faithful to His teachings, ready to preach His message, willing to suffer for His sake if need be. Doing all these things, they founded that fellowship that was to shake the world—and shakes it still.

It is strange that those first Christians should have acquired this belief in the risen Jesus. The Gospels leave no doubt that they were in utter despair at His death; they had no thought then that He could conquer the grave. It was only afterwards, after it was all over and finished, that they refused to credit what they had seen and believed what they hoped. Still more strange, as time went on the hope deepened into the concept of the Holy Spirit, with whose help they went out to save mankind.

Men today may interpret the story, and its wonders, in different ways. But on Easter Day the lesson is clear that darkness can no more swallow up the light than death can win a final victory. As we hear the triumphant "He is risen!" we know that no tomb can imprison the truth—that the spirit can roll away the heaviest stone.

Free State For Free Press

The Maryland Senate was called upon Thursday to decide if a muzzle should be put on freedom of the press by means of a law prohibiting state's attorneys and law enforcement officers from talking about cases before they come to trial.

By a narrow margin, 14-12, the proposal was defeated and Maryland continues to have a free press as determined by the Bill of Rights of the federal Constitution and by our state's own Constitution.

The Cumberland News was heartened to learn that one of the senators voting against this so-called "gag rule" was Allegany County's Senator Robert B. Kimble, minority leader in the upper house of the state legislature. For his respect of the freedoms that help keep America free, The News extends its thanks to Senator Kimble.

Population Grows

Population of the country continues to grow at a rate of approximately 1½ per cent a year, according to a report of the United States Census Bureau, which estimates the nation gained 3.4 per cent in population between April 1, 1950, date of the last census, and July 1 last. Thirty-eight states and the District of Columbia gained in population in the 27-month period. Nine states showed losses, and one remained stationary.

The pattern of population growth established in the 1940-50 decade continued with little variation. California's 804,000 gain was again the largest, followed by Texas with 477,000, New York with 348,000, Michigan with 337,000 and Florida with 329,000. States which lost population were Alabama, Arkansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, Tennessee, West Virginia, Maine, Vermont and North Dakota. Montana's population remained stationary.

Arizona, Nevada and Florida showed the largest relative increase, with gains of more than 10 per cent. New York, the most populous state, now has 15,179,000 population. California has tightened its hold on the No. 2 spot seized in 1950 with a total of 11,390,000, followed by Pennsylvania, with 10,667,000; Illinois, with 8,918,000; Texas, with 8,189,000, and Ohio, 8,174,000.

Promotions And Ulcers

It seems too bad, but capacity alone does not determine how high a man can rise in industrial management. He must have something else, according to a lecture delivered to the American Academy of General Practice, meeting at St. Louis. Prof. C. D. Selby of the University of Michigan Medical School says that he must have a stomach able to resist peptic ulcers.

This is not exactly funny, though some funsters seem to think that ulcers are comic. Dr. Selby says the worry factor in industrial jobs evidently has much to do with the incidence of ulcers. The attack rate increases with the responsibility wrapped up with the job until it reaches 18 per cent in the management group.

What Professor Selby seems to be saying is that people who worry themselves into ulcers will not be able to hold down top managerial posts if they get them. And whether or not this kind of stomach trouble is psychosomatic, people who are subject to it ought to take it into account when they choose their occupations. In fact, Professor Selby recommends that placement procedure "take into consideration the possibilities of promotion and the stress features of the jobs ahead."

That last bit of advice seems to be directed at employers. But employes would be wise to heed it, too. Otherwise they may find themselves ruing the day they rise beyond the jobs that were well within their talents and into others their stomachs cannot take.

The Worm Turns

Raymond E. Heald, a farmer near Danville, Ind., recently found himself in possession of a couple of bushels of tin cans and empty bottles through the courtesy of an anonymous donor. The fellow had driven along the road, found a likely spot, and dumped the stuff.

Apparently this wasn't the first time it had happened to farmer Heald. But this time he decided to do something about it. He gathered up the trash, drove into Plainfield, the county seat, and dumped the stuff in front of the town hall.

He was arrested by the amazed Plainfield police, and now a jury which included eight farmers has acquitted him. To be sure, this was a protest verdict, and didn't pretend to correct the evil which the law envisaged. But it is an indication of the state of mind of people who live along the highways toward those who pick a roadside spot for a dumping ground.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

New Drugs And Mixtures Of Old

In the last decade so many new drugs have been introduced that most pharmacies would need an adjoining warehouse to carry every preparation available on the market. Furthermore, it is all the physician can do to keep up with the latest remedy for this or that disease, left alone remember the fancy trade names of these products. Even the pharmacist is in need of a good catalog or reference book.

In 1951, for example, according to a report by Paul de Haen, 322 new pharmaceuticals were introduced by 86 manufacturing firms. But among these, there were only 35 different single chemicals. In other words, 11 per cent were originals and the remainder were duplications of single or compounded chemicals. Some also represented old reliables that came out in a new size or dosage. Also tabulated as new were mixtures of known drugs marketed under a modern name. This ought to be kept in mind whenever a newcomer is announced. In this regard it is important to distinguish between a really new drug, such as penicillin which appeared in 1943 and an old substance that was resurrected, refined, or polished up and presented as an original creation.

Among the thousands of bottles on the shelves of every drug store, however, are several potent and valuable products. These are the real representatives of progress and include such headliners as our antibiotics (penicillin, streptomycin, erythromycin, terramycin, and others) as well as the antihistaminics, hormones, vitamins, narcotics, and barbiturates. No one questions the value of these remedies; they are specific and live up to their claims. It is no wonder that the American Druggist's fortnightly prescriptions survey for January shows that the most frequent prescription is for an antibiotic; with the barbiturates, antihistaminics, narcotics, and vitamins next. The sequence varies from month to month depending upon the needs. Antibiotic sales were at an all-time high in the recent influenza epidemic.

Druggists also classify their medications by use. According to this survey, most of the persons who needed drugs must have had an infection of some kind. Sedatives and hypnotics were next, showing that almost as many persons were bothered with insomnia, nervousness, and anxiety or were in need of medication to lower blood pressure or relieve pain. Then came skin and cough preparations and antispasmodics. No. 6 comprised the internal analgesics such as aspirin. The inference is that millions must suffer from headache, arthralgia, or other types of aches and pains. Allergy also is a troublesome disorder because drugs for this purpose ranked seventh on the list. Ordinary hormones such as thyroid came next, followed by eye preparations and stimulants.

Specific drugs for heart disease were No. 11. Because the antispasmodics and sedatives also are used for cardiovascular disorders there is a good possibility that a different classification might raise the amount of money spent on the "old ticker." It is not surprising to find tonics, antacids, and cathartics near the bottom; these compounds have had their day.

STAY WARM

N. T. writes: Is it all right to take a bath when a person has a cold?

REPLY

Yes, but keep the bathroom warm and avoid chilling.

CORONARY THROMBOSIS

P. W. writes: Can a young person have a coronary attack?

REPLY

Yes, but this heart disturbance is more common in the 50-70 age group. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on coronary thrombosis.

MORE SUPPORT NEEDED

J. H. writes: Is it harmful for children to wear sneakers all day?

REPLY

With our modern hard sidewalks, streets, and floors, tennis shoes are not firm enough to support the arches. For this reason they should be worn only for play.

STIFF NECK

M. W. writes: Can the neck be afflicted with arthritis?

REPLY

Yes. The vertebrae in this area frequently play host to this condition. The neck also is vulnerable to injury which leads to traumatic arthritis.

HUNGER PANGS

A. C. writes: What causes attacks of hunger between meals? I sometimes get such funny feelings I think I'll collapse before I eat.

REPLY

Decrease in the sugar content of the blood will do this. These attacks can be overcome by eating more proteins and fats, which have greater staying powers than sugars.

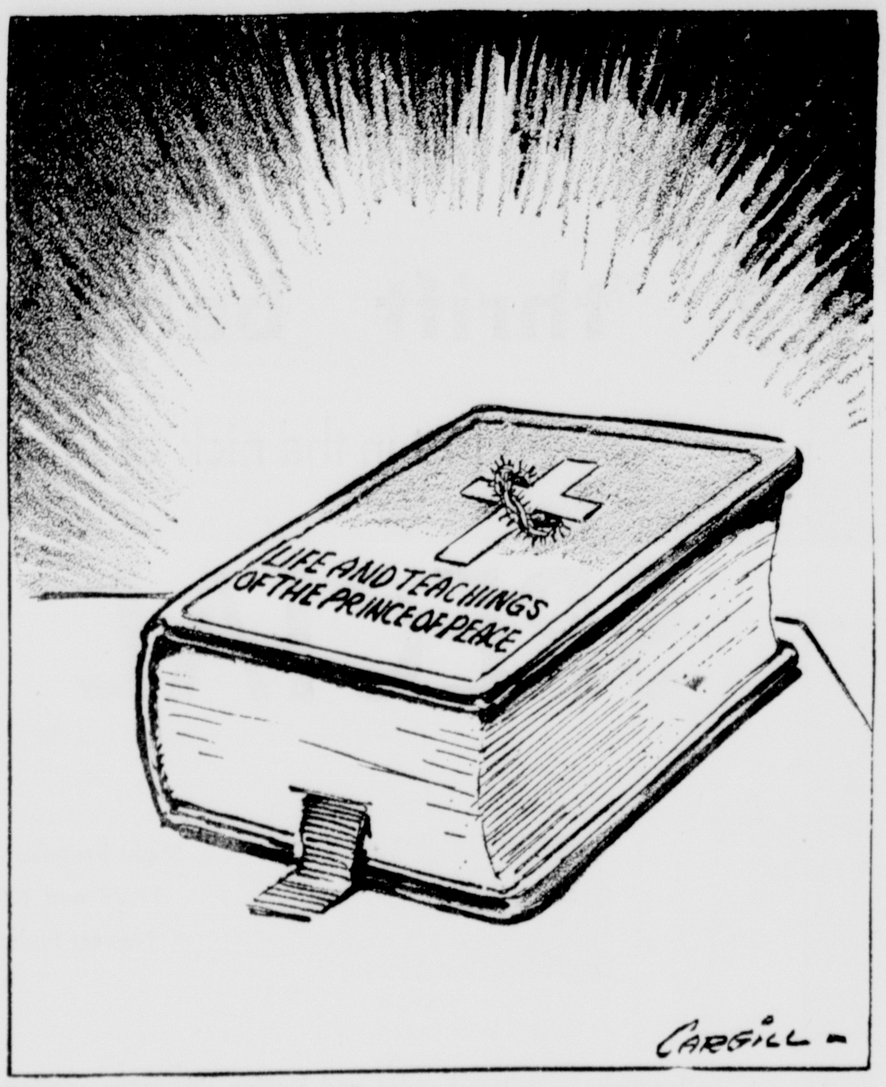

GROWTHS

W. B. writes: What is the difference between cancer and tumor?

REPLY

Both are growths but not all tumors are cancerous.

Folsom Deserts Eisenhower's Tax Stand; Duff Fights Losing Battle For Wilson Cabinet Widow; Malone Hurries To Give Away Public Lands

WASHINGTON—It isn't supposed to be known, but a Treasury spokesman backed down on his chief in the White House the other day over the important question of cutting taxes.

President Eisenhower is firmly on record against cutting taxes at this time. He has made it very clear he opposes New York Congressman Dan Reed's bill to slash income taxes before the budget is balanced. However, when Undersecretary of the Treasury Marion Folsom was questioned privately about Reed's bill, he did not support his chief.

Folsom, ex-treasurer of the Eastman Kodak Company, was kept after a House Ways and Means hearing to answer questions about tax cuts.

"What position do you take on the excess-profits tax?" asked Louisiana's Congressman Hale Boggs. "Do you think it should be continued or permitted to expire?"

"Our position on the excess-profits tax is that it is a very bad tax, and we would like to get rid of it as soon as we can," replied Folsom.

This is in direct opposition to Folsom's boss, President Eisenhower, who is against wiping out the excess-profits tax before personal income taxes are reduced. Otherwise it would appear that the Republicans favored big business.

"Then what position do you take on H. R. -?" pursued Congressman, referring to Dan Reed's bill cutting income taxes.

"We don't want to take any position now," hedged the Treasury official.

"So far you are not against it?" pressed Boggs.

"No," admitted Folsom.

Hearts And Politics

Big, gruff, Sen. Jim Duff of Pennsylvania, one of the ablest solons on Capitol Hill, isn't saying anything about it, but he isn't too happy about the treatment he gets from the White House.

Duff happens to have been the very first Eisenhower supporter. When most people were saying that Ike wouldn't run, Duff was out beating the bushes, drumming up delegates for the aloof general in Paris. He made speech after speech, all over the U.S.A., saying that Eisenhower was the only candidate who could win for the Republicans.

Since the elections, however, Duff was not appointed to the cabinet, seldom invited to the White House. On policy matters on Capitol Hill he is rarely consulted.

The senator from Pennsylvania has said nothing, is not the complaining kind, has asked no favors.

The other day, however, Duff, who believes you should have a heart in politics, did go to the White House to ask one favor. He called on Gov. Sherman Adams to request that a fellow Pennsylvanian, Mrs. A. Mitchell Palmer, be continued in her job with the General Services Administration.

Mrs. Palmer happens to be the sole surviving widow of the Woodrow Wilson cabinet. Her late husband, a prominent Pennsylvanian, was Wilson's attorney general, and Mrs. Palmer in latter years has held an obscure position in the General Services Administration.

Penniless Republicans

When Franklin D. Roosevelt took office in 1933, the Democrats found several Republicans in sinecure jobs, among them President Harding's old secretary, George Christian, and Mrs. Harding's brother, O. M. P. Brown, both members of the Shipping Board.

At first they were slated to be axed. However, it was discovered that Christian was almost blind, could get no work elsewhere, and Roosevelt continued him. Mrs. Harding's brother was also continued.

Later, another Republican, ex-Sen. Shortridge of California, was found half-starving on the streets of San Francisco at the age of 65. He was also given a job by the Democrats.

But when Senator Duff, Republican, called at the White House to ask that the widow of a Democratic cabinet member be continued in a minor post drawing $5,000, he got little satisfaction.

Sherman Adams appeared to concur; but, two days later, Mrs. Palmer was fired. Her phone was cut off, her desk moved out, and she was told she was no longer needed.

This and various other things have led Duff to the conclusion that he'll probably run for governor of Pennsylvania next year. If so, Pennsylvania Democrats, who now control Philadelphia for the first time in 70 years, will try to send either peppery Hugh Dilworth or ex-Sen. Francis Myers to Washington to take his place—and Ike may be one short on his already slim Senate majority.

Giving Away Public Land

Nevada's GOP Sen. George Malone is in such a hurry to turn the public range lands over to the big Western cattle and sheep men that he actually announced the firing of the government's land management boss before President Eisenhower got around to doing it.

The official in question is Malone's fellow Nevadan, Marion Clawson, who has continued on the job, though expecting to be replaced as soon as the Republicans can find a successor.

"I see that they are firing (Clawson)" remarked Malone, behind closed doors of the Senate Interior Committee, "and that is a good start. He is from Nevada, too, but, as far as I am concerned, he is a lost soul. He doesn't have any more idea how the stockmen west of the Rockies make a living than a hog does about drinking holy water. . . ."

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Freedom And Rebirth

Easter reminds us of the changelessness of nature, which moves in an orderly cycle. True, one may be disappointed over a rainy or a cold Easter Sunday, just as in northern climates a Christmas that is not white leaves something to be hoped for next year.

Many of the most impressive holy days, whether among primitive or the most highly civilized peoples, occur during the solstices, those periodic moments in an eternal rhythm of life. In the spring comes, for the Christians, Easter; for the Jews, the Passover.

Easter ushers in the rebirth of nature, the reappearance of grass, the early spring flowers, the budding of trees, the return of the robin. Of course, this is limited to our North Temperate world. In other climates, the rebirth manifests itself in other ways, but everywhere the cyclic rhythm of life, of all that lives, is changeless, eternal, constant.

It is a witnessing of the Divine Intelligence which controls the universe. Sceptical as a scientific age may choose to be, it has never produced evidence that the universe is an accident; that there are no causes for nature's resistance to the unusual. The scientist is already becoming conscious of the perils in unsettling the balance of nature, a balance so fine that tampering with it can produce disaster.

The Passover saga has to do with the constant struggle between slavery and freedom, between the dignity of man and his reduction to a clod. Year after year, for thousands of years, the story of the exodus of the Jews from slavery in Egypt to the freedom of natural law—to God's revealed law as handed down on Mount Sinai—is repeated that all may remember that freedom has not always existed but is a gift to man from God to be guarded, protected, defended. Freedom is an imperishable treasure.

Easter is the promise of the Eternal Life. Jesus died and was resurrected from the dead. There is no death; there is only life eternal. Easter is a gay, a cheering, a hope-giving holiday.

Its story is one of the most tragic in history. Jesus sits with His friends and disciples, celebrating the Passover, eating the matzoh and of the paschal lamb and the bitter herbs to remind them of the struggle from slavery to freedom. I have myself attended just such a table practically every year of my life, the last time being on Monday night of this week. The customs are identical; the service not radically different.

As is habitual, on such an occasion, men discourse after the meal on many topics and Jesus and His disciples spoke of important subjects. It was on this occasion that Jesus said:

". . . These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full. This is my commandment: that ye love one another, as I have loved you. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you. Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you . . ."

Then Jesus was arrested, tried, and crucified as was the custom of the Romans. And on the third day after His death, He was resurrected.

The concept of the resurrection, the rebirth, is the eternity of life. Paul, who was the first internationalist in the sense that he insisted that all mankind were brothers in the fatherhood of God, said:

"Even as Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness. Know ye therefore that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham. And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, 'In thee shall all nations be blessed.' . . ."

God's mercy is for all mankind, without distinction. Even in time of chaos and disturbance, when men do not seem to know what to do, the promise of freedom in the Passover and of the Eternal Life in Easter gives hope of glories to come—for where is faith, there must be hope.

WASHINGTON — An era of "talk" which may last for a year or more, with proposals for an over-all settlement of vital questions between the East and West—but on terms to be dictated by Moscow—is the real meaning of the maneuvers of the last few days by Soviet Russia.

The big bait to be dangled before the Western Allies is an end to the fighting in Korea. This move is calculated to sweep the Western countries with such psychological force as to pave the way for the "peace at any price" stage which Moscow has been awaiting ever since the Korean War broke out.

It has always been a puzzle as to why Soviet Russia would react so mildly to what was happening in Europe—namely, the emergence of NATO and later the European defense army, both of which steps were close to Russia's threshold — while pretending at least to be giving much attention to what was happening in Asia.

But now, with the ratification of the European defense pact by the lower house in Germany and the probability that American diplomacy can bring France into line, the time has come for Russia to start a delaying and retarding movement.

Since inside Germany, France, and Britain are strong Socialist movements which while not pro-Communist, are nevertheless in favor of peace with the Soviet Union at almost any price, the Moscow strategists know that a spectacular bid for peace at this time may kill the European defense army altogether and possibly weaken the NATO military setup. Budgets everywhere are bigger than tax receipts, and the people in each country are clamoring for relief from heavy taxes.

The emphasis which the West has placed on deeds as against words has probably impressed Moscow. This time the Soviet Union and Red China are ready to stop the actual fighting. It does not cost them anything in prestige to do so, because the situation is exactly the same militarily as it was in June 1950, when the Korean War broke out. North Korea is occupied by the Communists and will stay that way during a protracted period of futile negotiations in which the Western Allies will call in vain for the withdrawal of Communist forces from North Korea and for the unification of the country.

Red Buildup Likely

It will be interesting to see whether the major nations will "sell out" South Korea—which has been making nearly all the sacrifices of blood and treasure—to get a paper pledge of a unified and independent country, or whether the Allies, though talking about unification, will refuse to withdraw Allied forces until all Communist troops are withdrawn. For, once the fighting stops, the leverage against the North Korean puppets and the Red Chinese will be gone unless South Korea becomes strong enough to be a potentially powerful striking force.

So Moscow is ready to start overall peace talks, and this means endless conversations on everything, involving Europe as well as Asia. During that period there will be an increasing military effort made behind the iron curtain and a bold attempt to get East-West trade started so as to obtain strategic materials and machinery for further armament efforts.

The Moscow regime is prepared to barter and bargain, of course. It will halt the fighting in Korea, give up Allied prisoners, and start negotiation of questions to be discussed by the so-called "political" conference. These involve the broad questions of Korea's future. In return for having given up the prisoners and the stoppage of fighting, Soviet Russia will then ask for admission of Red China into the United Nations and a reopening of East-West trade in all commodities, including strategic materials.

The Soviets are doubtless being advised by Anglo-Saxon Communists in their midst that it is unwise to try to impose conditions ahead of time and that it is better to give up the prisoners, halt the hostilities, and then be in a position to get a reopening of trade and admission of Red China to the U.N., for this is really the British and continental viewpoint.

Drive Hard Bargain

It is when the conferences start on the "Political" level that the world will witness a repitition of some of the interminable bickering which has characterized many conferences of foreign ministers held with Moscow diplomats since 1945. The Russians drive a hard bargain and, if they can keep continental Europe from rearming, they may agree to a few concessions—possibly even to discuss the idea of reuniting East and West Germany. This would be effective bait inside Germany as Bonn dispatches have already indicated.

So the big game has begun, and it does look as if the trump card of the Russians is to stop the Korean fighting and then point to a "deed" and ask for further agreements that will give the Soviet Union and Red China time to build up their munitions plants and their armies and air forces.

Just as many people in the world believed that Hitler meant peace at Munich in 1938, so many will believe the same thing now as Russia holds forth an olive branch. But the end result will be the same—the Kremlin will be a threat to the peace of the world until it is crumbled from within or through pressure exerted through satellite countries. The talks, however, will go on among the top-level diplomats till the world is finally disillusioned about the evil men who rule in Moscow today.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP

Malenkov's Molasses

WASHINGTON

The Soviet rulers probably actually do want to end the fighting in Korea. Moreover, the Korean move may portend a new Soviet policy line which will subject the mettle of the West to a test at least as severe as the Korean War itself. This about sums up the majority view of the experts who have been studying the recent signs and portents from Moscow.

There are, of course, plenty of different theories as to why the Soviets may want to end the Korean War. But the theory most generally favored starts with the death of Joseph Stalin and the coming to power of Georgi M. Malenkov.

Stalin was an old man, with his roots in the period of Russian revolutionary ferment. However much he may have diverged from Communist doctrine in practice, Stalin was deeply imbued with the doctrinaire rigidity of the old revolutionary. This rigidity has repeatedly saved the West. A less violent policy might well have brought the Communists to power in Western Europe after the war. Stalin could have wrecked the Marshall Plan simply by joining it. The Soviet-engineered Czech coup awoke the West, and the Korean War alerted the West again, after it had gone comfortably to sleep in the Louis Johnson era. And so on.

War Threatens Malenkov

Malenkov is a young man, and he is not a revolutionary at all. He is a practical expert in the art of seizing and exercising power in the modern slave-state. Moreover, he has nothing but contempt for doctrine. In a speech he delivered in 1946, Malenkov savagely attacked the Soviet theoreticians and doctrinaire intellectuals—"people who have quotatoins from Marx and Engels ready for every purpose and every pretext."

No one believes that Malenkov's objectives will differ in essence from Stalin's. But this ruthless, intensely practical man, more flexible than his aged predecessor, may use different means to the same end. Malenkov's immediate objective, of course, like Stalin's after Lenin's death, is to consolidate his own regime.

The war in Korea involves a real threat to Malenkov's regime, especially because Malenkov still lacks Stalin's prestige within the Soviet empire. Malenkov cannot rule out the possibility that the new American administration will adopt measures to bring to bear increased military pressure to end the war, and thus enlarge the area of conflict. In this case, Malenkov would have to choose between dishonoring commitments made by Stalin to China, the major Soviet satellite, or becoming directly involved in conflict with the United States. Either course might fatally weaken Malenkov's hold on power. At the same time, the new American policy of "disengaging" American ground troops has reduced the practical value of the Korean War to the Kremlin.

As for Malenkov's ultimate objectives, they are, like Stalin's, to weaken the West and eventually to rule it. But where Stalin used vinegar to catch such flies as he caught, the more flexible Malenkov may have understood the practical value of using molasses.

Opens Up Opportunities

A Korean truce, if it comes, will unquestionably greatly stimulate the already existing tendency to slacken off the Western defense effort. Moreover, the Western Allies have refused to negotiate directly with the Soviet, as long as the Korean fighting was in progress; but an end to the fighting will open up all sorts of opportunities for Soviet political and diplomatic maneuvers.

For example, the Soviet commander in Germany, Gen. Vassily Chuikov, has already called for a four power conference to negotiate a Germany treaty, and if a Korean truce is agreed to, such an offer could hardly be refused. Negotiations on a German peace treaty would almost inevitably halt in its tracks the efforts to create a European army capable of defending Europe.

Finally, there is the chance of an American depression, resulting from a slackened defense effort, a possibility which the Soviet rulers have long borne eagerly in mind.

AAUW Lists Committees, Has Speaker

Miss Ann Shriver Reifsnider, Sykesville, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Cumberland Branch, American Association of University Women Wednesday evening at Central YMCA. At the business session nine of the 14 delegates the local branch is allowed for the state meeting at Kensington, April 17-18 and an Auditing committee were named and two meetings announced. Mrs. John A. Cupler, II, presided.

The delegates are Mrs. Richard Winer, Miss Roseann Langhans, Mrs. Howard Briggs, Miss Lelia Stevens, Miss Nan Livingston, Mrs. Aden Everstine, Miss Ruth Clauson, Mrs. William H. Blake and Mrs. Cupler. Mrs. Richard Stinberger, Mrs. Harold Lancaster and Mrs. Jack Q. Heath are to audit the books. A meeting of the Mental Hygiene Group April 13, will be at the home of Mrs. John Hafer, Baltimore Avenue. Dr. Gertrude Gross is to be the speaker. The executive board meeting is April 11 at 11 a. m.

Miss Reifsnider gave a detailed account of the social activities at Springfield State Hospital as conducted by volunteers. Her subject was "Volunteer Activities at Springfield State Hospital." She explained that the volunteers come from various organizations and privately. They give time and effort without compensation she said, and aid in satisfying the needs of the patients with numerous activities. They include bingo, musicals, dances, fashion shows, glee clubs, singing, movies and other forms of entertainment. They also bring gifts to the patients.

The speaker reported that the hospital according to the latest census has 3,258 mental patients. Six new buildings have been added recently.

Since the volunteers became active, Miss Reifsnider said there has been a tremendous change for the better in the patients. She explained that they look forward to visits as a medium of interest from those on the outside. It gives a true sense of security, which mental patients mostly lack, in knowing they have not been forgotten.

Explaining the volunteers are asked to come on time, the speaker pointed out that if they are late the patients become upset and disappointed. In this volunteer work, Miss Reifsnider is co-ordinator. She handles all contacts with volunteers and religious groups including scheduling of various activities. Standards of entertainment are set and orientation courses are given to the entertainers. Before any program is given Miss Reifsnider must supervise it so that nothing is said or done which might upset the mental patient. They are also told what gifts are acceptable. The superintendent, psychiatrist, and clinical director work with Miss Reifsnider in preparing volunteers to do what is best for the patients. The co-ordinator also performs the role of public relations director for the hospital and is under the direct leadership of the state director of public relations of the Department of Mental Hygiene.

As an instance of good work being done at Springfield State Hospital, the speaker pointed out that of 96 mental patients sent from Allegany county, 64 have returned home within a year and are able to take their places in society.

Mrs. Everstine gave a short talk, telling of her experiences at Springfield State Hospital. Mrs. William VanNewkirk introduced the speaker. Miss Helen McFerran was Social chairman, assisted by Miss Virginia Dixon.

Davis Memorial Young People's Group will present "My Son Lives" tomorrow at 7:30 in the church.

Oldtown Officer Wounded While Rescuing Gunner

A young Oldtown Army officer was wounded last week on Old Baldy as he carried an injured machine gunner to safety.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen said last night they had received a telegram from the Adjutant General of the Army saying their son, Second Lt. Jerald E. Allen, 23, had been hospitalized with wounds.

A letter from Lt. Allen provided the further information that he had been wounded twice on Tuesday, March 24, two days after his platoon had gone into combat on the Korean hill which has several times passed back and forth between UN and Red Chinese troops in bloody battles.

Lt. Allen said he had taken his platoon into the line to relieve another unit which had suffered heavy casualties. When Red artillery knocked out his outfit's radio, Allen sent two men back to battalion headquarters with a message.

While the runners were picking their way back toward Allen's position, another barrage pinned them down, and Lt. Allen went to meet them. A mortar shell landed nearby and showered Allen with fragments, one of which struck his left arm.

Shortly afterward, when Lt. Allen's platoon was ordered to change its position, Allen and several noncommissioned officers went out to pick up the wounded. Allen himself discovered a wounded machine gunner from another company, hoisted the injured man to his back and started toward an aid station, although he had not yet received treatment for his own wound.

As the rescuers descended the hillside, one of the men stepped on a trip wire which set off a hand grenade fastened in a tree, wounding Lt. Allen in the foot.

Allen's parents said his wounds were not serious, and that he had recovered use of his arm and leg.

Allen entered the Army February 5, 1951, and was graduated from Officers Candidate School at Fort Benning, Ga., May 31, 1952. He arrived in Korea March 4, and was stationed with Company B, 31st Infantry Regiment, Seventh Division, at the time he was wounded.

SHADES OF THE EASTER BUNNY — Just in time for Easter a Rhode Island Red hen owned by Raymond Weber, 116 New Hampshire Avenue, laid this giant egg, evidently doing its best to help the Easter Bunny. The outer shell, resting on the edge of a bowl, measured 10¾ inches around the long way and 8¼ inches around the middle. When this large shell was broken it was found to contain a normal-size egg enclosed in a shell and a second egg without a shell. They are shown in the bowl.

Oldtown Officer Wounded While Rescuing Gunner

As You Were

(This is the 114th in a series of sketches with pictures of well known sport personalities of the past from the album of the Cumberland News Sports Editor. See if you can identify them by their photo.)

This lad broke in with the Lonaconing Champs basketball team when he was 16 years old.

He was on the same club with Winifred "Mac" Kenty, "Wig" Spear, Johnny Stafford, Jack Stewart. Pete Pell and Leo Clark prior to the First World War.

Perhaps he and and his brother Owen were better known as baseball players for they appeared in the lineup of many 'Coney teams. He was Known as the "kid third sacker" with Lonaconing in the George's Creek League.

In the early 1920s he played with the classy Barton Braves team which Arthur P. Hoffa sponsored and Blake G. "Spooks" Lytle managed. It was in a contest at Barton that he suffered a broken ankle while attempting a hook slide and he played little baseball thereafter.

A native of Lonaconing, he came from a family of musicians. His dad and his three brothers were musicians and he was trap drummer with quite a few orchestras. While with Clement Bray's orchestra he met the fabulous Dorsey Brothers — Jimmy and Tommy—and it was through his acquaintance with them that he joined a unit of Jean Goldkette's orchestra at Detroit. Before that he jobbed together with the Dorseys on engagements in Pennsylvania.

He organized his own orchestra which for many years was the No. 1 dance band in the tri-state area.

What's his name?

He is Marty Flynn, brother of famed Owen "Skinner" Flynn, shortstop of Lonaconing teams in the George's Creek League and Potomac League days. Owen, now 65, is retired and lives at Braddock, Pa. Patrick Flynn, 90, father of the musically inclined Flynns, also resides in Braddock. Marty is a resident of Cumberland and is salesman for the Cumberland Division of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company. Remember Marty Flynn's Society Ramblers Orchestra? The photo was taken in 1916 when Flynn was with the Coney Champs.

NBA Playoff Finals Open In Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 3 (AP)—The $12,500 series for the National Basketball Association crown starts Saturday night in a floor the New York Knickerbockers have never seen before—but it doesn't bother Coach Joe Lapchick much.

The Minneapolis Armory court is almost as strange to the Minneapolis Lakers, opponents of New York in the best-of-seven series for the second straight year.

Except for the final Fort Wayne game, which Minneapolis won 74-58 Thursday night, the Lakers hadn't played in the Armory for two years.

The Armory, owned by the state of Minnesota, seats 10,000—about the same as the Lakers' regular home, the Minneapolis Auditorium.

The auditorium is unavailable because of a sports show. The St. Paul Auditorium, which the Lakers use on occasion, also is unavailable.

New York is in a similar spot. Madison Square Garden is not available, and playoff games are scheduled Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday of next week in the 69th Street Regimental Armory.

The games in Minneapolis are Saturday and Sunday. Then the series shifts to New York for three games. If the sixth and seventh games are necessary, they will be played back in the Minneapolis Armory April 12 and 15.

Bolt Forges To Front In Azalea Open

New Jersey Pro's 135 Leads By One Stroke

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 3 (AP)—Tommy Bolt shook off one set of challengers to slip into a one-stroke lead at the halfway mark of the Azalea Open golf tournament today with a 69 for a 36-hole total of 135.

But the Maplewood, N.J., professional, who is gunning for his third victory of the year and the top spot in the money winning race, was confronted by a new set of pressing rivals going into tomorrow's third round.

Barber, Bulla Trail Leader

Little Jerry Barber of La Canada, Calif., unfurled a seven under par 65, best round of the tournament, to vault into a second place tie with Johnny Bulla, Verona, Pa., at 136, only one shot behind Bolt Bulla had 67 today.

Tied at 138, three strokes behind Bolt, were Johnny Palmer, Charlotte, N. C.; Lew Worsham, Oakmont, Pa., Doug Ford, Harrison, N.Y., and Bo Wininger, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Lloyd Mangrum, the year's leading money winner, playing out of Niles, Ill., and Fred Wampler, Indianapolis, followed at 139.

Tourney Ends Sunday

Sharing the 140 spot going into the third round of the $10,000 tournament which winds up Easter Sunday afternoon, were Max Evans, Detroit, and Wally Ulrich, Austin, Minn., who fell off to 73 today after his first day 67 had him tied for third with Wampler, a stroke back of Bolt and Mike Souchak, Durham, N.C.

Souchak, who leaves next week to become Claude Harmon's assistant at New York's Winged Foot Club, was nine strokes higher today, soaring to 75 as he opened with four fives to blow himself all but out of the important money with a 141 total.

The field was cut to the low 60 pros and 10 amateurs for tomorrow's tour of the 6,652-yard Cape Fear Country Club course. The high score to make the deadline was 167.

IBC Kept Busy Denying Rumors Of Bout Shift

Norris Says Title Go Will Stay In Chicago

CHICAGO, April 3 (AP)—The International Boxing Club today was busy denying rumors the postponed Rocky Marciano-Jersey Joe Walcott heavyweight title bout would be shifted from the Chicago Stadium May 15.

Soon after it was announced the bout was postponed five weeks from April 10 because of a nose injury to champion Marciano, reports began flying the bout would be moved elsewhere.

Before the match had been awarded to the Chicago Stadium, Walcott's manager, Felix Bocchiccio had held out for a Miami, Fla., or Atlantic City, N. J., site.

Jim Norris, IBC president, declared today:

"We have too much at stake to switch the fight. Our contract with the television sponsor has been signed and they already have been put to a lot of trouble with the date change and two fights had to be switched in Madison Square Garden to make it possible for the May 15 date here."

Truman Gibson, IBC secretary, estimated that Marciano's bloody nose cost the promoters at least $50,000 in advertising and other expenses which will have to be repeated because of the delay.

Gibson vigorously denied that a slow ticket sale had anything to do with the postponement, officially attributed to discovery of two broken small blood vessels in Marciano's right nostril.

Brooklyn Looms As Team To Beat In Senior Race

Giants Picked 2nd And St. Louis Third

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP) — Improved pitching, backed by stick-out performers in all but one position, plus a bench second to none, should carry the defending champion Brooklyn Dodgers to a second straight title and crack a jinx that has plagued National League pennant winners since 1945.

Not since the 1942-43-44 St. Louis Cardinals spun together three consecutive flags has a National League team been able to win two pennants in a row. The Dodgers, who failed in 1948 and again in 1950, could, just like the Yankees, have had four in a row today were it not for final day failures in '50 and '51.

In each losing year it was the pitching weakness that hurt the most. Even last year, when they captured the flag by 4½ games, the Dodgers were deficient in pitching. It was only because of the brilliant relief work of Joe Black that they were able to beat out the New York Giants.

Rookie Pitchers Good

Unless all signs fail and spring training is over-accentuated, the Brooks should come up with some effective hurling this year. Three of the finest looking rookie pitchers in all Florida receive their checks from Dodger Boss Walter F. O'Malley. They are Johnny Podres, Bob Milliken and Glenn Mickens. The latter is still in the Army out on a furlough, but is scheduled to be discharged in early May. Podres has allowed only one run, unearned in 24 exhibition innings.

Another pitcher almost certain to help is Russ Meyer, the veteran righthander acquired from the Boston Braves last February, less than a half hour after the Braves had obtained him from Philadelphia. Meyer, consistent double figure winner, copped 13 decisions last year. He figures to be one of the big five along with Carl Erskine, Billy Loes, Black and Preacher Roe.

Needs Hard To Fulfill

Teams like the Giants, Phillies or Cardinals may be able to dislodge the Dodgers but their admitted needs seem too difficult to fulfill barring a miraculous showing by one or more first year men.

The writer views the National League pennant race this way:

1. Brooklyn
2. New York
3. St. Louis
4. Philadelphia
5. Milwaukee
6. Chicago
6. Chicago
7. Cincinnati
8. Pittsburgh

Will Honor Roberts

PHILADELPHIA, April 3 (AP) — Several hundred Philadelphia Phillies fans will sponsor a Robin Roberts day April 26. They will give the club's pitcher a 1953 Cadillac.

The car will be presented between games of a doubleheader between the Phillies and the Pittsburg Pirates.

Westvaco Wants Back In League; Clubs Will Vote

The Bi-State Baseball League may become a six-team circuit after all.

It all depends on whether the five teams now in the league vote in favor of re-admitting the Westvaco Club which withdrew then changed its decision and has applied for a franchise.

The about-face occurred this week when the league received a check from Leo Ryan as the team's franchise fee.

Several weeks ago Westvaco quit the league in a huff and declared it would play independent ball. Their franchise deposit was returned to them by President Samuel Koplovitz of Keyser.

The five other teams of the loop, Grantsville, Mt. Savage, McCoole, Frostburg and Cumberland will vote to accept or reject Westvaco's application at a meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Mt. Savage Fire Hall. The feeling is that the Papermakers will be welcomed back into the league. Westvaco is a charter member of the Bi-State and has always turned out strong contenders in the championship races.

Charles Seeks LaStarza Bout

Ez Wants To Clinch Demand For Title Go

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3 (AP)—Ezzard Charles wants to fight Roland La Starza now, to clinch his demand for a heavyweight title match with the winner of the champion Rocky Marciano-Jersey Joe Walcott bout.

Tom Tannas, co-manager of the former heavyweight champion, said Charles is ready to take on anybody who can be considered a contender.

Ezzard eliminated Rex Layne in convincing fashion here Wednesday night, battering the Lewiston, Utah, 203-pounder for a 10-round decision.

"We've never turned down a fight," Tannas said. "Ezzard wants to keep active, especially since the Marciano-Walcott match has been postponed to May 15.

"As soon as I get back to Pittsburgh, I'm going to call Jim Norris (president of the International Boxing Club) and try to arrange a fight with La Starza. He rates right behind Charles as a contender and I think the bout would be an attraction in New York City.

We've offered La Starza fights twice, once when Charles was champion and again last year. The Dapper Dan Club in Pittsburgh wanted to put it on as a big outdoor charity show. La Starza's manager turned us down both times. If he is going to continue being called a title contender, I think he should meet Charles."

The Governor's office said Fought, also a Wheeling resident, and member of the Commission since July 5, 1950, submitted his resignation March 25. It had not been announced previously. No reason was given for the resignation.

Danny Bucceroni Shellacks Davey

TKOs Coast Fighter In 8th At St. Nick

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—Lanky Danny Bucceroni of Philadelphia took one round to warm up and then handed husky Dave Davey of Seattle a terrific shellacking to score an eighth round technical knockout in the main ten rounder at St. Nicholas Arena tonight. Bucceroni, a 2 to 1 favorite, weighed 193½ to Davey's 208½.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello ordered the bout halted after examining the 24-year-old West Coaster at the finish of the eighth round.

"He's too exhasuted to continue," said Dr. Nardiello.

Ike Under Attack For His Decision To Pass Up Opener

WASHINGTON, April 3 (INS)—President Eisenhower came under sharp attack on Capitol Hill today for his decision to pass up Washington's baseball season opener and was urged to change his mind.

Sen. Johnson (D) Colo., and Reps. Price (D) Ill., and Pilcher (D) Ga., baseball fans of long-standing, said the President's decision is "a great disappointment" to followers of the national pastime.

Mr. Eisenhower shattered tradition and touched off protests by numerous other fans when he announced Thursday he would not be present to throw out the first ball at the local American League opener April 13.

The chief executive told Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Nationals, that he would be taking "a little vacation" out of town on that date. He is expected to be in Augusta, Ga.

As matters now stand, vice-president Nixon will do the honors which traditionally have been carried out by presidents since 1912 when William Howard Taft inaugurated the first-ball custom.

Arrangements Made To Bury Jim Thorpe Near His Birthplace

LOS ANGELES, April 3 (INS)—Arrangements were made today to bury Jim Thorpe at Shawnee, Okla., near the place where the immortal indian athlete was born.

A shrine, costing $100,000 is planned by Shawnee officials.

Since Thorpe's death from a heart attack last week admirers in California, in Carlisle, Pa., where he began his famous athletic career; and at Anadarko, the indian capital of the country, had sought his remains.

Rosary will be recited next Monday in Los Angeles for Thorpe before his body is removed to Oklahoma.

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP) — The Thoroughbred Racing Associations Inc. reported today that figures for the first quarter of 1953 indicated the sport may be headed for an attendance record.

"With a total attendance through March 31, of 3,555,291, the sport is running 9 per cent ahead of 1952, a record-breaking year," said Spencer J. Drayton, TRA executive secretary. The TRA is made up of the nation's major race tracks.

"Wagering likewise is up over 1952, a total of $241,996,170 having passed in and out of the parimutuel machines for an increase of 11.3 per cent."

Raines Ineligible To Play At Bruce

WESTERNPORT, April 3 — Bobby Raines, pitching ace of Bruce High School, is ineligible for Bi-State Conference games this season, because of the schoolboy age limit.

The circuit's strikeout king of 1952 is two weeks too old for high school baseball and will be lost to the Bulldogs for the entire season.

Among the lettermen returning Coach Augie Eichhorn has three pitchers, namely, Dave Marple, Bobby Shimer and Paul Haywood.

Bruce opens the season with La-Salle in Cumberland Monday, April 13.

The price will be set by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick.

Sports Grill

By PAT ROBINSON

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 3 (INS)—The finest sucker bait now being offered in this country is the Caliente future book on the Kentucky Derby.

This neat little booklet, emanating from Tijuana, offers odds on 137 possible, but by no means probable, starters in the Derby to be run at Churchill Downs May 2.

Many a chump has learned to his sorrow that his money is not refunded if the horse he bets on does not start.

The future book operators are very helpful. They advise you to send a bank draft but not a money order or personal check and the ticket will be sent by return mail. All prices, of course, subject to change without notice.

The late Col. Ed Bradley always said that he would lay 3 to 1 odds against any horse even starting in the Derby, to say nothing of running and winning it.

As of now it appears likely that not more than a dozen horses listed in the future book will ever reach the post. Of course, you can never be sure of this because many owners like to see their colors in the Derby although they know their horse hasn't a ghost of a chance to win or even finish in the money.

Some fine horses already have been declared out of the Derby, either through injury or illness, and there are scores of others listed whose owners have no intention of starting them.

These owners could put a terrific crimp in the future book, if not actually put it out of business, by announcing their intention not to start a horse.

You'd be surprised how many chumps fall for the apparently glittering odds offered in the winter book, especially among people who are unfamiliar with racing.

They see odds of 1000 to 1 offered against a horse, 500 to 1 the same horse won't place, 250 to 1 he won't show and even 125 to 1 he won't even finish fourth. Believe it or not, two such horses are so listed, although the odds might just as well be a million to one for all the chance they have.

Four horses are listed at 500 to 1, eight at 300 to 1, 17 at 200 to 1, 14 at 150 to 1, and 32 at 100 to 1.

Unbeaten Native Dancer naturally is the favorite but the odds on him are only 8 to 5 to win and 3 to 5 to place with no show or fourth place odds offered. He is the only horse listed without a show price.

There is a long drop to the next two horses, Royal Bay Gem and Correspondent which are offered at 7 to 1. Tahitian King is 8 to 1, Straight Face, 10 to 1, Breeze By 12 to 1, Invigorator 15 to 1 and Money Broker and Jamie K. 20 to 1.

Probably the fairest chance offered is on Laffango and Gurragh King at 40 to 1.

Larry Benton, 56, Collapses, Dies On Golf Course

CINCINNATI, April 3 (AP)—Larry Benton, 56, one-time pitching star for the New York Giants, collapsed and died on a golf course this afternoon.

He was stricken while putting on the 14th green of the Ridgewood Golf Club, according to Police Capt. William J. Krueger.

Benton was a product of the local sandlots, and was signed by the Boston Braves in 1923. Four years later he went to the New York Giants where he enjoyed his greatest success. He won 25 games and lost nine in 1928 and led the National League in pitching that year.

Benton came to the Cincinnati Reds from New York in a trade for Hughey Critz, second baseman, in 1930.

Five Japs Enter Boston Marathon

BOSTON, April 3 (INS) — Five Japanese runners flew into Boston today, confident they would win the B. A. A. Patriot's Day marathon April 20. The representatives of the Japanese Amateur Athletic Union left Tokyo last Saturday.

This is the second try by the Japanesef or the famed international race. Two years ago, Shegeki Tanaka, who escaped the atomic bombing of Hiroshima, ran away with the race. Three other Japanese finished fifth, eighth and ninth in that race.

Frank Kellert, rookie infielder with the St. Louis Browns, is a graduate of Oklahoma A. & M. where he starred in baseball and basketball.

As You Were

(This is the 114th in a series of sketches with pictures of well known sport personalities of the past from the album of the Cumberland News Sports Editor. See if you can identify them by their photo.)

This lad broke in with the Lonaconing Champs basketball team when he was 16 years old.

He was on the same club with Winifred "Mac" Kenty, "Wig" Spear, Johnny Stafford, Jack Stewart, Pete Pell and Leo Clark prior to the First World War.

Perhaps he and and his brother Owen were better known as baseball players for they appeared in the lineup of many 'Coney teams. He was known as the "kid third sacker" with Lonaconing in the George's Creek League.

In the early 1920s he played with the classy Barton Braves team which Arthur P. Hoffa sponsored and Blake G. "Spooks" Lytle managed. It was in a contest at Barton that he suffered a broken ankle while attempting a hook slide and he played little baseball thereafter.

A native of Lonaconing, he came from a family of musicians. His dad and his three brothers were musicians and he was trap drummer with quite a few orchestras. While with Clement Bray's orchestra he met the fabulous Dorsey Brothers — Jimmy and Tommy—and it was through his acquaintance with them that he joined a unit of Jean Goldkette's orchestra at Detroit. Before that he jobbed together with the Dorseys on engagements in Pennsylvania.

He organized his own orchestra which for many years was the No. 1 dance band in the tri-state area.

What's his name?

He is Marty Flynn, brother of famed Owen "Skinner" Flynn, shortstop of Lonaconing teams in the George's Creek League and Potomac League days. Owen, now 65, is retired and lives at Braddock, Pa. Patrick Flynn, 90, father of the musically inclined Flynns, also resides in Braddock. Marty is a resident of Cumberland and is salesman for the Cumberland Division of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company. Remember Marty Flynn's Society Hamblers Orchestra? The photo was taken in 1916 when Flynn was with the Coney Champs.

NBA Playoff Finals Open In Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 3 (AP)—The $12,500 series for the National Basketball Association crown starts Saturday night in a floor the New York Knickerbockers have never seen before—but it doesn't bother Coach Joe Lapchick much.

The Minneapolis Armory court is almost as strange to the Minneapolis Lakers, opponents of New York in the best-of-seven series for the second straight year.

Except for the final Fort Wayne game, which Minneapolis won 74-58 Thursday night, the Lakers hadn't played in the Armory for two years.

The Armory, owned by the state of Minnesota, seats 10,000—about the same as the Lakers' regular home, the Minneapolis Auditorium.

The auditorium is unavailable because of a sports show. The St. Paul Auditorium, which the Lakers use on occasion, also is unavailable.

New York is in a similar spot. Madison Square Garden is not available, and playoff games are scheduled Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday of next week in the 69th Street Regimental Armory.

The games in Minneapolis are Saturday and Sunday. Then the series shifts to New York for three games. If the sixth and seventh games are necessary, they will be played back in the Minneapolis Armory April 12 and 15.

Bolt Forges To Front In Azalea Open

New Jersey Pro's 135 Leads By One Stroke

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 3 (AP)—Tommy Bolt shook off one set of challengers to slip into a one-stroke lead at the halfway mark of the Azalea Open golf tournament today with a 69 for a 36-hole total of 135.

But the Maplewood, N.J., professional, who is gunning for his third victory of the year and the top spot in the money winning race, was confronted by a new set of pressing rivals going into tomorrow's third round.

Barber, Bulla Trail Leader

Tied at 138, three strokes behind Bolt, were Johnny Palmer, Charlotte, N. C.; Lew Worsham, Oakmont, Pa., Doug Ford, Harrison, N.Y., and Bo Wininger, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Tourney Ends Sunday

Sharing the 140 spot going into the third round of the $10,000 tournament which winds up Easter Sunday afternoon, were Max Evans, Detroit, and Wally Ulrich, Austin, Minn., who fell off to 73 today after his first day 67 had him tied for third with Wampler, a stroke back of Bolt and Mike Souchak, Durham, N.C.

Souchak, who leaves next week to become Claude Harmon's assistant at New York's Winged Foot Club, was nine strokes higher today, soaring to 75 as he opened with four fives to blow himself all but out of the important money with a 141 total.

The field was cut to the low 60 pros and 10 amateurs for tomorrow's tour of the 6,652-yard Cape Fear Country Club course. The high score to make the deadline was 167.

IBC Kept Busy Denying Rumors Of Bout Shift

Norris Says Title Go Will Stay In Chicago

CHICAGO, April 3 (AP)—The International Boxing Club today was busy denying rumors the postponed Rocky Marciano-Jersey Joe Walcott heavyweight title bout would be shifted from the Chicago Stadium May 15.

Soon after it was announced the bout was postponed five weeks from April 10 because of a nose injury to champion Marciano, reports began flying the bout would be moved elsewhere.

Before the match had been awarded to the Chicago Stadium, Walcott's manager, Felix Bocchicio had held out for a Miami, Fla., or Atlantic City, N. J., site.

"We have too much at stake to switch the fight. Our contract with the television sponsor has been signed and they already have been put to a lot of trouble with the date change and two fights had to be switched in Madison Square Garden to make it possible for the May 15 date here."

Truman Gibson, IBC secretary, estimated that Marciano's bloody nose cost the promoters at least $50,000 in advertising and other expenses which will have to be repeated because of the delay.

Gibson vigorously denied that a slow ticket sale had anything to do with the postponement, officially attributed to discovery of two broken small blood vessels in Marciano's right nostril.

Brooklyn Looms As Team To Beat In Senior Race

Giants Picked 2nd And St. Louis Third

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP) — Improved pitching, backed by stick-out performers in all but one position, plus a bench second to none, should carry the defending champion Brooklyn Dodgers to a second straight title and crack a jinx that has plagued National League pennant winners since 1945.

Not since the 1942-43-44 St. Louis Cardinals spun together three consecutive flags has a National League team been able to win two pennants in a row. The Dodgers, who failed in 1948 and again in 1950, could, just like the Yankees, have had four in a row today were it not for final day failures in '50 and '51.

In each losing year it was the pitching weakness that hurt the most. Even last year, when they captured the flag by 4½ games, the Dodgers were deficient in pitching. It was only because of the brilliant relief work of Joe Black that they were able to beat out the New York Giants.

Rookie Pitchers Good

Unless all signs fail and spring training is over-accentuated, the Brooks should come up with some effective hurling this year. Three of the finest looking rookie pitchers in all Florida receive their checks from Dodger Boss Walter F. O'Malley. They are Johnny Podres, Bob Milliken and Glenn Mickens. The latter is still in the Army out on a furlough, but is scheduled to be discharged in early May. Podres has allowed only one run, unearned in 24 exhibition innings.

Another pitcher almost certain to help is Russ Meyer, the veteran righthander acquired from the Boston Braves last February, less than a half hour after the Braves had obtained him from Philadelphia. Meyer, consistent double figure winner, copped 13 decisions last year. He figures to be one of the big five along with Carl Erskine, Billy Loes, Black and Preacher Roe.

Needs Hard To Fulfill

Teams like the Giants, Phillies or Cardinals may be able to dislodge the Dodgers but their admitted needs seem too difficult to fulfill barring a miraculous showing by one or more first year men.

The writer views the National League pennant race this way:

1. Brooklyn
2. New York
3. St. Louis
4. Philadelphia
5. Milwaukee
6. Chicago
6. Chicago
7. Cincinnati
8. Pittsburgh

PHILADELPHIA, April 3 (AP) — Several hundred Philadelphia Phillies fans will sponsor a Robin Roberts day April 26. They will give the club's pitcher a 1953 Cadillac.

Westvaco Wants Back In League; Clubs Will Vote

The Bi-State Baseball League may become a six-team circuit after all.

It all depends on whether the five teams now in the league vote in favor of re-admitting the Westvaco Club which withdrew then changed its decision and has applied for a franchise.

The about-face occurred this week when the league received a check from Leo Ryan as the team's franchise fee.

Several weeks ago Westvaco quit the league in a huff and declared it would play independent ball. Their franchise deposit was returned to them by President Samuel Koplovitz of Keyser.

The five other teams of the loop, Grantsville, Mt. Savage, McCoole, Frostburg and Cumberland will vote to accept or reject Westvaco's application at a meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Mt. Savage Fire Hall. The feeling is that the Papermakers will be welcomed back into the league. Westvaco is a charter member of the Bi-State and has always turned out strong contenders in the championship races.

Charles Seeks LaStarza Bout

Ez Wants To Clinch Demand For Title Go

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3 (AP)—Ezzard Charles wants to fight Roland La Starza now, to clinch his demand for a heavyweight title match with the winner of the champion Rocky Marciano-Jersey Joe Walcott bout.

"We've never turned down a fight," Tannas said. "Ezzard wants to keep active, especially since the Marciano-Walcott match has been postponed to May 15.

"As soon as I get back to Pittsburgh, I'm going to call Jim Norris (president of the International Boxing Club) and try to arrange a fight with La Starza. He rates right behind Charles as a contender and I think the bout would be an attraction in New York City.

We've offered La Starza fights twice, once when Charles was champion and again last year. The Dapper Dan Club in Pittsburgh wanted to put it on as a big outdoor charity show. La Starza's manager turned us down both times. If he is going to continue being called a title contender, I think he should meet Charles."

The Governor's office said Fought, also a Wheeling resident, and member of the Commission since July 5, 1950, submitted his resignation March 25. It had not been announced previously. No reason was given for the resignation.

Danny Bucceroni Shellacks Davey

TKOs Coast Fighter In 8th At St. Nick

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—Lanky Danny Bucceroni of Philadelphia took one round to warm up and then handed husky Dave Davey of Seattle a terrific shellacking to score an eighth round technical knockout in the main ten rounder at St. Nicholas Arena tonight. Bucceroni, a 2 to 1 favorite, weighed 193½ to Davey's 208½.

"He's too exhasuted to continue," said Dr. Nardiello.

Ike Under Attack For His Decision To Pass Up Opener

WASHINGTON, April 3 (INS)—President Eisenhower came under sharp attack on Capitol Hill today for his decision to pass up Washington's baseball season opener and was urged to change his mind.

Sen. Johnson (D) Colo., and Reps. Price (D) Ill., and Pilcher (D) Ga., baseball fans of long-standing, said the President's decision is "a great disappointment" to followers of the national pastime.

Mr. Eisenhower shattered tradition and touched off protests by numerous other fans when he announced Thursday he would not be present to throw out the first ball at the local American League opener April 13.

The chief executive told Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Nationals, that he would be taking "a little vacation" out of town on that date. He is expected to be in Augusta, Ga.

Arrangements Made To Bury Jim Thorpe Near His Birthplace

LOS ANGELES, April 3 (INS)—Arrangements were made today to bury Jim Thorpe at Shawnee, Okla., near the place where the immortal indian athlete was born.

Since Thorpe's death from a heart attack last week admirers in California, in Carlisle, Pa., where he began his famous athletic career; and at Anadarko, the indian capital of the country, had sought his remains.

Betting On Bangtails Is Up 11.3 Per Cent

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP) — The Thoroughbred Racing Associations Inc. reported today that figures for the first quarter of 1953 indicated the sport may be headed for an attendance record.

"With a total attendance through March 31, of 3,555,291, the sport is running 9 per cent ahead of 1952, a record-breaking year," said Spencer J. Drayton, TRA executive secretary. The TRA is made up of the nation's major race tracks.

"Wagering likewise is up over 1952, a total of $241,996,170 having passed in and out of the parimutuel machines for an increase of 11.3 per cent."

Raines Ineligible To Play At Bruce

WESTERNPORT, April 3 — Bobby Raines, pitching ace of Bruce High School, is ineligible for Bi-State Conference games this season, because of the schoolboy age limit.

The circuit's strikeout king of 1952 is two weeks too old for high school baseball and will be lost to the Bulldogs for the entire season.

Among the lettermen returning Coach Augie Eichhorn has three pitchers, namely, Dave Marple, Bobby Shimer and Paul Haywood.

Bruce opens the season with LaSalle in Cumberland Monday, April 13.

The price will be set by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick.

Sports Grill

By PAT ROBINSON

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 3 (INS)—The finest sucker bait now being offered in this country is the Caliente future book on the Kentucky Derby.

This neat little booklet, emanating from Tijuana, offers odds on 137 possible, but by no means probable, starters in the Derby to be run at Churchill Downs May 2.

Many a chump has learned to his sorrow that his money is not refunded if the horse he bets on does not start.

The future book operators are very helpful. They advise you to send a bank draft but not a money order or personal check and the ticket will be sent by return mail. All prices, of course, subject to change without notice.

The late Col. Ed Bradley always said that he would lay 3 to 1 odds against any horse even starting in the Derby, to say nothing of running and winning it.

As of now it appears likely that not more than a dozen horses listed in the future book will ever reach the post. Of course, you can never be sure of this because many owners like to see their colors in the Derby although they know their horse hasn't a ghost of a chance to win or even finish in the money.

Some fine horses already have been declared out of the Derby, either through injury or illness, and there are scores of others listed whose owners have no intention of starting them.

These owners could put a terrific crimp in the future book, if not actually put it out of business, by announcing their intention not to start a horse.

You'd be surprised how many chumps fall for the apparently glittering odds offered in the winter book, especially among people who are unfamiliar with racing.

They see odds of 1000 to 1 offered against a horse, 500 to 1 the same horse won't place, 250 to 1 he won't show and even 125 to 1 he won't even finish fourth. Believe it or not, two such horses are so listed, although the odds might just as well be a million to one for all the chance they have.

Unbeaten Native Dancer naturally is the favorite but the odds on him are only 8 to 5 to win and 3 to 5 to place with no show or fourth place odds offered. He is the only horse listed without a show price.

There is a long drop to the next two horses, Royal Bay Gem and Correspondent which are offered at 7 to 1. Tahitian King is 8 to 1, Straight Face, 10 to 1, Breeze By 12 to 1, Invigorator 15 to 1 and Money Broker and Jamie K. 20 to 1.

Larry Benton, 56, Collapses, Dies On Golf Course

CINCINNATI, April 3 (AP)—Larry Benton, 56, one-time pitching star for the New York Giants, collapsed and died on a golf course this afternoon.

He was stricken while putting on the 14th green of the Ridgewood Golf Club, according to Police Capt. William J. Krueger.

Benton was a product of the local sandlots, and was signed by the Boston Braves in 1923. Four years later he went to the New York Giants where he enjoyed his greatest success. He won 25 games and lost nine in 1928 and led the National League in pitching that year.

Five Japs Enter Boston Marathon

BOSTON, April 3 (INS) — Five Japanese runners flew into Boston today, confident they would win the B. A. A. Patriot's Day marathon April 20. The representatives of the Japanese Amateur Athletic Union left Tokyo last Saturday.

This is the second try by the Japanesef or the famed international race. Two years ago, Shegeki Tanaka, who escaped the atomic bombing of Hiroshima, ran away with the race. Three other Japanese finished fifth, eighth and ninth in that race.

Frank Kellert, rookie infielder with the St. Louis Browns, is a graduate of Oklahoma A. & M. where he starred in baseball and basketball.

THE SYMBOL OF LIFE

Together they echo the promise the first Easter fulfilled, the promise of eternal life for all who believe in Jesus, the Son of God.

But Easter lilies and a cross are only a symbol. To find the true joy of Easter and its wondrous promise—come to Church on Easter Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE SYMBOL OF LIFE

Easter lilies and a cross. A strange and wonderful symbol of life.

The lily is among the most delicate of flowers. And the cross is an ancient instrument of execution.

But the lily is pure and fresh and alive with beauty. And the Cross reminds men of the Christ who rose from the grave.

Together they echo the promise the first Easter fulfilled, the promise of eternal life for all who believe in Jesus, the Son of God.

But Easter lilies and a cross are only a symbol. To find the true joy of Easter and its wondrous promise—come to Church on Easter Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Army Orders Captain Home

FREDERICK, April 3 (AP) — A New York Times dispatch reports that Capt. John R. Fitzpatrick Jr., 29-year-old Frederick Army officer, has finally finished his tour of Korean duty but it took "a direct order from Washington" to end it.

Unmarried and a regular Army man, Fitzpatrick went to Japan in February of 1949, made the Inchon landings in Korea in October, 1950, and has refused ever since to be shipped back to the United States.

Robert Alden, correspondent of the Times, wrote, "It took a direct order from Washington — 'Go home' — to get the 29-year-old captain to head up the gangplank."

The Frederick man was ordered home on an Army regulation which says soldiers can't serve more than four years continuously outside the United States.

Injuries Are Fatal To Pa. Woman

The victim was Mrs. Nick Fabrizi, who was instantly killed in the crash of a tractor-trailer into the machine operated by her husband. The trailer burst into flames after the crash. Damage to the trailer was $18,000 and the car was a total loss with damages listed at $3,000. Nick Fabrizi suffered serious injuries to his chest. James F. Griffin of Pittsburgh was operating the truck. He suffered cuts and body injuries.

Both men are patients in Somerset Community Hospital. The community fire company went to the scene to extinguish the flaming truck. The death of Mrs. Fabrizi was the fifth this year on the Turnpike in Somerset County.

Two City Streets Being Resurfaced

The Cumberland Contracting Company today finished one street resurfacing job and began another, according to Mrs. Lucile Roeder, street commissioner.

The street is to be opened this afternoon, Mrs. Roeder explained, and the blacktopping will be started Monday at 7 a. m.

Cantata Scheduled

LONACONING—An Easter Cantata, "Memories of Easter Morn," will be presented by the Adult Choir of First Presbyterian Church Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the Presbyterian church.

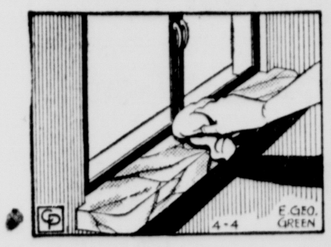

Miss Verna Miller is director of music; Miss Dorothy Brown, organist; Miss Betty Milford, assistant organist.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Easter Business Is Booming Despite Its Early Advent

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—How's Easter business?

Many retailers confidently expect to improve last Easter's sales by 5 to 10 per cent. This despite the fact that Easter Sunday comes a week earlier, leaving one week less for shopping, and despite two weeks of almost constant rain in many Eastern cities.

Merchants in New York, which still hasn't dried out from its rainiest March, are less enthusiastic than their colleagues in Charlotte, Kansas City, Dallas, Chicago or San Francisco.

Macy's concedes business would have been better if there hadn't been so much rain.

By and large, the South, Southwest and Northwest are doing better than other parts of the country.

"We think we'll end up about 10 per cent ahead of last march," reports Leon Harris Jr., vice president of A. Harris & Company, Dallas, Tex.

Herbert H. Wilson, president of Emery Bird Thayer Company, Kansas City, predicts "the largest March dollar volume in our history."

"Business is good," says Marshall Field's in Chicago. "Measurably better than last year" says Chicago's Carson, Pirie Scott.

C. B. Kellstadt, vice president of Sears Roebuck in Atlanta, finds Easter business "substantially ahead." Garfinckel's in Washington, notes a "very satisfactory" Easter volume. But Harry M. Davidoll, president of the Hecht Company, one of the capital's plushiest department stores, complains government employees are spending less. He says it's because they're uncertain about their jobs under a changed administration.

Typical of the Easter boom at suburban stores around the country is the record business reported at White Plains, N. Y., shopping center a few miles north of New York City. Despite incessant rain, the city's parking meter receipts last week broke all previous records.

For the country as a whole, Dun & Bradstreet flatly predicts shoppers will spend more this Easter "than in any previous similar period."

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Let a swain send a girl a camellia and if she understands anything at all about the language of flowers, she will know that he thinks she is lovely. Or to tell your own heartbeat that you carry the torch, send him one crimson carnation.

Every variety of flower bespeaks some sentiment of the sender — gratefulness, admiration, thoughtfulness and many more. When chosen with especial care, flowers become the most gracious gestures.

A man who goes out of his way to find out what you are wearing on a given occasion and orders a corsage that complements your dress does more than tender you a posy — his heart is in his act.

Floral Tributes

So with every floral offering, a little thought makes of it a tribute. If when you send cut flowers to a hostess you choose a color scheme that blends with the background of her living room, your gift will be thrice welcome.

You show great consideration in ordering less aromatic varieties for a sick friend or in having a bouquet destined for a hospital arranged in a container so as to save the time of busy nurses. For convalescense, a flowering plant is a long-term joy.

An altogether charming birthday greeting is in the birth flower of the month — sweet peas in April, lily of the valley in May, roses in June. Your florist can furnish you with the complete twelve-month list and he will also be happy to tie the box in birthstone colors — May's emerald, June's moonstone or July's ruby.

One Red Rose

When you are the recipient of so much attention, you will, of course, desire to show your appreciation by more than a mere "thank-you." The subtle way to do so is to wear or arrange your posies with the utmost imagination. Wear a corsage with the flower heads turned up and in a spot that best accents your costume. Group cut flowers with artistic care in your finest vase and place them in the most dramatic spot in the room.

Whether giver or recipient, remember that it does not take a host of blooms to express yourself. In 1765 Baron Stiegel gave his land to his church and in return desired "only one red rose forever" on his birthday.

Monday: First in teen week series.

Daily Bridge Lesson

by Shepard Barclay

NOTHING IS IMPOSSIBLE

"THEY can't put you in jail for what you did," is the classic assertion of a lawyer whose client then asked through the bars, "How can you say that when I am in jail?" It is similar with certain contracts in bridge tournaments, which other people call "impossible to make," even though the score slip shows they were made. Usually in such cases inquiry shows that the "impossible" actually occurred.

(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
4 ♥	Pass	Pass	4 ♠
5 ♥	5 ♠	Dbl.	Rdbl.
Pass	6 ♠	Dbl.	Rdbl.

Go ahead and make the obvious comments on that bidding, especially South's 4-Spades. There was nothing obvious about the play, however. Apparently doomed to lose two tricks in clubs and one in diamonds, South nevertheless made it. How? By eventually winning a finesse of the club 5—believe it or not.

South won the lead of the heart K with dummy's A, scored the spade A, K and Q, then ruffed the heart 9 with the spade J. He led the club 2 and sent the 10 to the Q. That's the only trick he lost. East obliged with a costly return of the club 9, which caused South to play West for the K and put on the 7. The A won that, establishing a tenace of the J-5 over East's 8-3. The club 4 was led for a winning finesse of the 5, and the J furnished a discard of the diamond 2. The diamond A and the dummy's last three spades took the rest of the tricks.

After this play was recounted to those who questioned the huge score for South on the slip, all of them were ready to admit that nothing is impossible.

Your Weekend Question

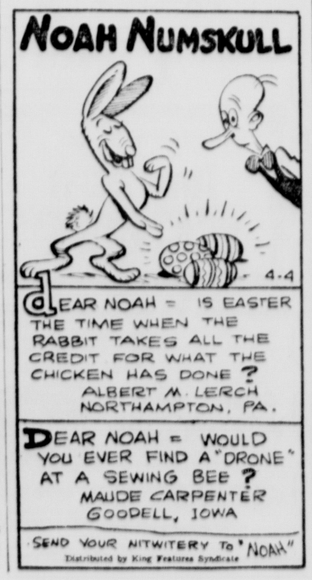

What would you consider the most important first lesson on psychic bids to a player who has advanced just about enough to be ready for it? Would it be on the subject of when to make them? Or on how to protect himself against them?

Russian To Preach In Lonaconing Sunday

Rev. Basil A. Malof, an exiled Russian church leader, will preach in and around Lonaconing three times Easter Sunday.

"The Atomic Bible Foe Russia," will be the topic of his sermon at the 11 a. m. service at the Pentecostal Holiness Church in Lonaconing. At 2:45 p. m. he will speak on "Will Communism Overcome Christianity in Russia?" at a union service at the Firemen's Armory, sponsored by four Lonaconing churches.

Finally, at 7:30 p. m., he will speak on "Trials and Triumphs in the Russian Mission Field" at the Assembly of God Church in Midlothian.

Army Orders Captain Home

FREDERICK, April 3 (AP) — A New York Times dispatch reports that Capt. John R. Fitzpatrick Jr., 29-year-old Frederick Army officer, has finally finished his tour of Korean duty but it took "a direct order from Washington" to end it.

Unmarried and a regular Army man, Fitzpatrick went to Japan in February of 1949, made the Inchon landings in Korea in October, 1950, and has refused ever since to be shipped back to the United States.

Robert Alden, correspondent of the Times, wrote, "It took a direct order from Washington — 'Go home' — to get the 29-year-old captain to head up the gangplank."

The electronically operated rotation-points machine ran out of digits after Fitzpatrick chalked up 99 points. He could have gone home on 44.

The Frederick man was ordered home on an Army regulation which says soldiers can't serve more than four years continuously outside the United States.

Injuries Are Fatal To Pa. Woman

The victim was Mrs. Nick Fabrizi, who was instantly killed in the crash of a tractor-trailer into the machine operated by her husband. The trailer burst into flames after the crash. Damage to the trailer was $18,000 and the car was a total loss with damages listed at $3,000. Nick Fabrizi suffered serious injuries to his chest. James F. Griffin of Pittsburgh was operating the truck. He suffered cuts and body injuries.

Both men are patients in Somerset Community Hospital. The community fire company went to the scene to extinguish the flaming truck. The death of Mrs. Fabrizi was the fifth this year on the Turnpike in Somerset County.

Two City Streets Being Resurfaced

The Cumberland Contracting Company today finished one street resurfacing job and began another, according to Mrs. Lucile Roeder, street commissioner.

Washington Street between Prospect Square and Smallwood Street was blocked off as workers marked and filled in bad holes.

The street is to be opened this afternoon, Mrs. Roeder explained, and the blacktopping will be started Monday at 7 a. m.

Cantata Scheduled

LONACONING—An Easter Cantata, "Memories of Easter Morn," will be presented by the Adult Choir of First Presbyterian Church Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the Presbyterian church.

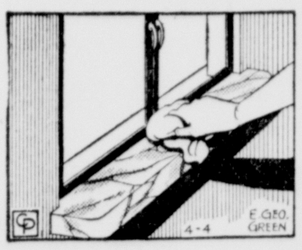

Miss Verna Miller is director of music; Miss Dorothy Brown, organist; Miss Betty Milford, assistant organist.

Local Student Cited

Robert C. Matlick, 533 Patterson Avenue, was one of the students at Ringling School of Art, Sarasota, Fla., whose work was cited as outstanding at the school's 22nd annual exhibition of student work. Matlick is studying commercial designing.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Marble window sills, table tops and lamps should be dusted daily. If dirt is allowed to accumulate, the marble will discolor and form a film which may be difficult to remove.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Easter Business Is Booming Despite Its Early Advent

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—How's Easter business?

Many retailers confidently expect to improve last Easter's sales by 5 to 10 per cent. This despite the fact that Easter Sunday comes a week earlier, leaving one week less for shopping, and despite two weeks of almost constant rain in many Eastern cities.

There's a definite swing toward merchandise with higher price tags. A Charlotte, N. C., haberdasher is doing some Easter business in $200 sports coats. Textile executives buy them.

Merchants in New York, which still hasn't dried out from its rainiest March, are less enthusiastic than their colleagues in Charlotte, Kansas City, Dallas, Chicago or San Francisco.

Macy's concedes business would have been better if there hadn't been so much rain.

By and large, the South, Southwest and Northwest are doing better than other parts of the country.

"We think we'll end up about 10 per cent ahead of last march," reports Leon Harris Jr., vice president of A. Harris & Company, Dallas, Tex.

Herbert H. Wilson, president of Emery Bird Thayer Company, Kansas City, predicts "the largest March dollar volume in our history."

"Business is good," says Marshall Field's in Chicago. "Measurably better than last year" says Chicago's Carson, Pirie Scott.

C. B. Kellstadt, vice president of Sears Roebuck in Atlanta, finds Easter business "substantially ahead." Garfinckel's in Washington, notes a "very satisfactory" Easter volume. But Harry M. Davidoll, president of the Hecht Company, one of the capital's plushiest department stores, complains government employees are spending less. He says it's because they're uncertain about their jobs under a changed administration.

Typical of the Easter boom at suburban stores around the country is the record business reported at White Plains, N. Y., shopping center a few miles north of New York City. Despite incessant rain, the city's parking meter receipts last week broke all previous records.

For the country as a whole, Dun & Bradstreet flatly predicts shoppers will spend more this Easter "than in any previous similar period."

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Let a swain send a girl a camellia and if she understands anything at all about the language of flowers, she will know that he thinks she is lovely. Or to tell your own heartbeat that you carry the torch, send him one crimson carnation.

Every variety of flower bespeaks some sentiment of the sender — gratefulness, admiration, thoughtfulness and many more. When chosen with especial care, flowers become the most gracious gestures.

A man who goes out of his way to find out what you are wearing on a given occasion and orders a corsage that complements your dress does more than tender you a posy — his heart is in his act.

Floral Tributes

So with every floral offering, a little thought makes of it a tribute. If when you send cut flowers to a hostess you choose a color scheme that blends with the background of her living room, your gift will be thrice welcome.

You show great consideration in ordering less aromatic varieties for a sick friend or in having a bouquet destined for a hospital arranged in a container so as to save the time of busy nurses. For convalescense, a flowering plant is a long-term joy.

An altogether charming birthday greeting is in the birth flower of the month — sweet peas in April, lily of the valley in May, roses in June. Your florist can furnish you with the complete twelve-month list and he will also be happy to tie the box in birthstone colors — May's emerald, June's moonstone or July's ruby.

One Red Rose

When you are the recipient of so much attention, you will, of course, desire to show your appreciation by more than a mere "thank-you." The subtle way to do so is to wear or arrange your posies with the utmost imagination. Wear a corsage with the flower heads turned up and in a spot that best accents your costume. Group cut flowers with artistic care in your finest vase and place them in the most dramatic spot in the room.

Whether giver or recipient, remember that it does not take a host of blooms to express yourself. In 1765 Baron Stiegel gave his land to his church and in return desired "only one red rose forever" on his birthday.

Daily Bridge Lesson

by Shepard Barclay

NOTHING IS IMPOSSIBLE

"THEY can't put you in jail for what you did," is the classic assertion of a lawyer whose client then asked through the bars, "How can you say that when I am in jail?" It is similar with certain contracts in bridge tournaments, which other people call "impossible to make," even though the score slip shows they were made. Usually in such cases inquiry shows that the "impossible" actually occurred.

(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
4 ♥	Pass	Pass	4 ♠
5 ♥	5 ♠	Dbl.	Rdbl.
Pass	6 ♠	Dbl.	Rdbl.

Go ahead and make the obvious comments on that bidding, especially South's 4-Spades. There was nothing obvious about the play, however. Apparently doomed to lose two tricks in clubs and one in diamonds, South nevertheless made it. How? By eventually winning a finesse of the club 5—believe it or not.

South won the lead of the heart K with dummy's A, scored the spade A, K and Q, then ruffed the heart 9 with the spade J. He led the club 2 and sent the 10 to the Q. That's the only trick he lost. East obliged with a costly return of the club 9, which caused South to play West for the K and put on the 7. The A won that, establishing a tenace of the J-5 over East's 8-3. The club 4 was led for a winning finesse of the 5, and the J furnished a discard of the diamond 2. The diamond A and the dummy's last three spades took the rest of the tricks.

After this play was recounted to those who questioned the huge score for South on the slip, all of them were ready to admit that nothing is impossible.

Your Weekend Question

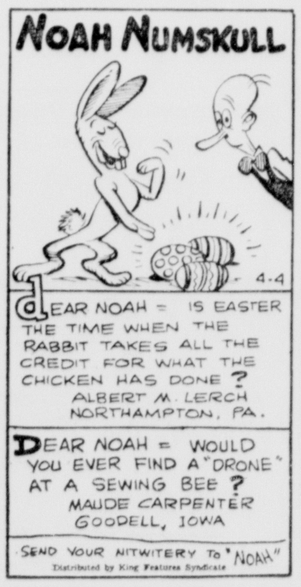

What would you consider the most important first lesson on psychic bids to a player who has advanced just about enough to be ready for it? Would it be on the subject of when to make them? Or on how to protect himself against them?

Russian To Preach In Lonaconing Sunday

Rev. Basil A. Malof, an exiled Russian church leader, will preach in and around Lonaconing three times Easter Sunday.

"The Atomic Bible Foe Russia," will be the topic of his sermon at the 11 a. m. service at the Pentecostal Holiness Church in Lonaconing. At 2:45 p. m. he will speak on "Will Communism Overcome Christianity in Russia?" at a union service at the Firemen's Armory, sponsored by four Lonaconing churches.

Finally, at 7:30 p. m., he will speak on "Trials and Triumphs in the Russian Mission Field" at the Assembly of God Church in Midlothian.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a Decree of Divorce A MENSA ET THORO by James Robert Baughman from his wife, Elva Mae Baughman, Defendant, and custody of their two children.

The Bill states that the parties were married on September 3, 1949 by a Minister of the Gospel in Oakland, Maryland and that two children namely, Kathryn Faye Baughman born October 22, 1950 and Carol Jean Baughman born January 13, 1952, was born of said marriage and that both children are now in the custody of the Plaintiff. That although the conduct of the Plaintiff towards his said wife has always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the said Elva Mae Baughman did, on or about December 20, 1952 without any just cause or reason, abandon and desert the Plaintiff and has declared her intentions to live with him no longer and that such abandonment and desertion has continued uninterruptedly since December 20, 1952 to the date of the filing of the Bill of Complaint. That the Plaintiff has been a resident of Allegany County, Maryland for more than one year preceding the filing of the Bill of Complaint, and that the Defendant is a nonresident of the State of Maryland and was last known to have been residing at No. 4608 Superior Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio.

It is thereupon this 20th day of March, 1953, ordered by the Circuit Court of Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 21st day of April, 1953, give notice to said absent nonresident Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, warning her to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 8th day of May, 1953, next, to show cause, if any she has, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

Liberty Trust Bldg., Cumberland, Md.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a Decree of Divorce A MENSA ET THORO by James Robert Baughman from his wife, Elva Mae Baughman, Defendant, and custody of their two children.

The Bill states that the parties were married on September 3, 1949 by a Minister of the Gospel in Oakland, Maryland and that two children namely, Kathryn Faye Baughman born October 22, 1950 and Carol Jean Baughman born January 13, 1952, was born of said marriage and that both children are now in the custody of the Plaintiff. That although the conduct of the Plaintiff towards his said wife has always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the said Elva Mae Baughman did, on or about December 20, 1952 without any just cause or reason, abandon and desert the Plaintiff and has declared her intentions to live with him no longer and that such abandonment and desertion has continued uninterruptedly since December 20, 1952 to the date of the filing of the Bill of Complaint. That the Plaintiff has been a resident of Allegany County, Maryland for more than one year preceding the filing of the Bill of Complaint, and that the Defendant is a nonresident of the State of Maryland and was last known to have been residing at No. 4608 Superior Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio.

It is thereupon this 20th day of March, 1953, ordered by the Circuit Court of Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 21st day of April, 1953, give notice to said absent nonresident Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, warning her to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 8th day of May, 1953, next, to show cause, if any she has, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

House Approves Use Of Radar Speed Devices

See Dissents On 4-Year Term Plan

The action was taken as the House approved and sent to the governor Senate Bill 10. The devices can be used as evidence, however, only when drivers are warned by signs that such devices are being used.

The House also approved House Bill 507, which would boost the Cresaptown special taxing area's borrowing power from $10,000 to $25,000 .

Casts Lone Dissent

With Delegate Charles M. See, chairman of the Allegany County Delegation casting the lone dissenting vote, the House yesterday passed by a 90-1 vote House Bill 589, which would extend the term of the Mayor and Council of Cumberland from two to four years.

It was the second lone dissent of the day for Delegate See. He also cast the only blackball against a bill to give more home rule to the communities of the state.

Also passed by the House was Senate Bill 521, to make the attorney of the Garrett County Commissioners the attorney for the county treasurer for an extra $250 a year.

Bill Hits Snag

The bill to increase the salary of the Mayor and Council of Cumberland has hit a snag in the General Assembly.

Senate Bill 413 sponsored by Senator Robert B. Kimble and passed by the Senate would give the mayor $4,800 annually and the commissioners $2,400 yearly.

However, when the bill reached the House and referred to the six county delegates, an amendment providing for a referendum was tacked on.

Del. Charles M. See reported the bill passed and when it was referred back to the Senate, Senator Kimble refused to concur with the amendment.

As a result a conference committee comprised of three delegates and three senators met and made a decision.

See said their statement has not been made public.

New Creek Man Killed

A New Creek man was killed last night when a truck struck him as he crossed U. S. Route 50 near Pancake's Garage about seven miles south of Keyser, W. Va.

West Virginia State Police Cpl. O. G. Webley of Keyser identified the victim as Russell James Turbin, about 60, of New Creek, W. Va.

Cpl. Webley said Turbin was hit by a truck driven by Donald Franklin Schwinabart, 23, of Elk Garden, W. Va.

Schwinabart was quoted as saying he was driving east on Route 50 at about 8:15 when Turbin stepped in front of his pickup truck.

Schwinabart was lodged in Mineral County Jail at Keyser overnight, and Cpl. Webley said an involuntary manslaughter charge would be filed against him today.

Webley said Turbin was knocked or dragged a distance of 137 feet along the highway by the force of the impact. He said death apparently was instant.

Boys Admit They Stole Four Cars, Wrecked Two

Five Teenagers Are Arrested

Five teenage boys were arrested yesterday by detectives who said they had admitted stealing four cars in less than three days, and wrecking two of the vehicles while joy-riding.

Lt. James E. Van, head of the Detective Bureau, said two of the boys, both 15 years old, were released in custody of their parents pending court action. The other three, the oldest of whom is 18, were held in City Jail.

Target Found In Car

The boy was quoted as saying he and three companions drove the car around Cumberland for several hours before abandoning it on North Mechanic Street early Wednesday.

When police discovered the car and found a paper rifle target inside, Officer Charles W. Thompson said he had given a batch of targets of that type to a boy who had asked for them a few days earlier. Thompson operates a shooting gallery on North Mechanic Street.

Officer Walter P. Dennison arrested the youth, who reportedly told Detective Roy C. Hawse he had been involved in the theft. Officer Gordon Hite picked up two other boys, and Detective Leo E. P. Law arrested two more.

The group drove to Keyser, W. Va., where they picked up another 1949 car which attracted the attention of a policeman when they drove it across the Keyser-McCoole bridge into Maryland without headlights.

Crash At High Speed

When the officer gave chase, they abandoned the car and returned to the vehicle they had stolen earlier and sped back toward Cumberland.

At Pinto, they said, a tractor-trailer truck forced them off the highway while they were travelling at an estimated 95 miles an hour. The car swerved on the soft shoulder and finally struck a utility pole.

None of the boys was injured but the car was practically demolished. State Police found it a few hours later and notified the owner.

The boys, meanwhile, had left the scene and hiked through the woods to Cresaptown, some three miles away. There they stole a car owned by Paul Schramm of Cresaptown.

The 17-year-old said he drove the other boys to their homes in Cumberland and Corriganville, then turned the car over to a 15-year-old companion.

The LaVale Civic Improvement Association has no powers over the comunity's water system as prevail in Cresaptown. Administration of the water system there is handled by LaVale Sanitary commission.

No Election's Needed

Another election to name three members of the Citizens Committee of the Mt. Savage Special Tax Area also originally was scheduled for Monday but no citizens have petitioned as candidates to oppose the incumbents.

Other members of the Citizens Committe are Patrick Sullivan, vice-chairman; Thomas Stephens, secretary; Raymond Himmelright, treasurer, and Wilbur Logsdon. This committee administers the Mt. No election will be needed Monday for the Citizens Committee of Potomac Park either. Two committee members, Edward W. Shaffer, chairman, and Melvin W. Dean, secretary, have filed for new two-year terms. They will be installed for new two-year terms Monday night because no other residents seek the posts. The Citizens Committee administers the street lighting system and the water system used for fire protection in Potomac Park.

Bowman's Addition Fire Co. Answers 19 Emergency Calls

The annual report of the Bowman's Addition Volunteer Fire Company shows the firemen answered 19 emergency calls in 1952 with a total of 1,152 man hours spent in active service by the 36-man volunteer company.

The report, submitted by the company's president, John R. Greise, Fire Chief Leo Emerick and Secretary William F. Cage, indicated the fire company suffered a loss of $2,200 in fires during the year. This amount was comparatively small compared to the total of $24,000 worth of property and equipment involved in the fires.

Each of the 36 men in the volunteer company put in a total of 32 man hours during the year in active fire fighting and emergency work. This is in addition to drills, committee meetings, demonstrations and other time-consuming activities which are necessary to conduct the company.

The company spent $11,798.31 last year for equipment buildings and other expenditures to provide service to the community of Bowman's Addition.

The officers of the company hope this year to extend their service and provide better parking space at the fire hall, remodeling parts of the building, install a larger fire siren for emergency calls and to acquire additional fire-fighting equipment and telephone facilities.

Labor Urges City To Solve Traffic Ills

Favor Referendum On 4-Year Terms

Positive steps toward correcting Cumberland's traffic problems are being urged by the Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference.

Paul L. Burley, secretary, said traffic congestion is becoming increasingly serious and is already at the unbearable point when one of the main arteries of traffic becomes clogged.

Burley said it is only reasonable to expect local traffic problems to increase along with the increase in cars on the road, unless more thoroughfares are provided through the city, and railroads bypassed with overhead bridges or subways.

The conference, he said, urges that the Mayor and Council take steps to improve the traffic situation by any feasible means.

The labor leaders discussed but took no action Thursday night on a bill which would provide four-year terms for the Mayor and Council of Cumberland.

City Owned Buildings Will Be Inspected By Engineer

Annual inspections of all city owned buildings will be made by the city engineer, according to Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property.

Data from the inspections will be noted on standard inspection sheets which lists all structural parts and service equipment of a building.

If any part of the building is not up to standard, it will be listed on the report, together with an estimate of the cost of reconditioning.

The reports, Mrs. Roeder said, will provide the department with essential information needed when budgets for building maintenance are set up.

Since the urgency of the work is indicated on the report, it will also save money as funds available will be used to make the most urgent repairs, and allow other less necessary work to wait until it can be incorporated into future budgets.

Maryland To Help Observe World Health Day April 7

World Health Day will be observed Tuesday, April 7, with the Maryland State Health Department joining the World Health Organization in its program "attainment of all peoples of the highest possible level of health."

Four members of the Health Department have been selected to take part in the Influenza Study Program being carried out by the World Health organization. Instituted in 1948, the program is designed to improve specific diagnosis and reporting of influenza throughout the world.

In the United States, the program operates under an advisory committee composed of representatives of the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, the armed services, the Department of Defense, the Bureau of Animal Industry and the Department of Agriculture.

The major objective of the program is to bring to the attention of health authorities the earliest posible information concerning outbreaks of influenza in any part of the world. Purpose of the information is to make possible the ultimate preparation and use of vaccines specifically for the type of disease occurring in any area, in the hope that pandemic outbreaks throughout the world may be prevented or mitigated.

The representatives of the Health Department working on this study are Dr. James R. Strain, Epidemiologist, and county health officers, Dr. William R. Cameron of Washington County, Dr. Charles R. Hayman of Harford County, and Dr. Alan D. Houser of St. Mary's County.

Fire Alarm Box Installed At Housing Unit

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker said the installation will be completed today. The box will be Number 647 and will be a first alarm for the South Cumberland Fire Station.

The master box is being installed on the First Street side of the housing development. Three auxiliary boxes will be installed later, so alarms may be turned in from other sections of the village.

Will Cost $500

The alarm box costs about $250 and installation will bring the cost of the unit to about $500.

Chief Parker said the master box is a spring-driven model of the latest design.

It is equipped with a telegraph key which could be used to supplement its usefulness. Codes could be set up, he explained, to bring needed equipment to the scene.

The chief explained that the department could adopt the signal 5-5-5 as a general alarm. When the numbers were tapped out on the telegraph key, it would pull every piece of equipment in the city to the scene.

If a company needs the aerial ladder company, but has enough men on hand to control the blaze, 6-6-6 would summon the ladder company.

Could Use Phones

Chief Parker said the master box is also equipped with a telephone jack to allow firemen to speak directly to the switchboard at Central Fire Company.

Chief Parker and Assistant Chief Robert Long have been busy for several days checking fire fighting equipment at Memorial Hospital.

Schwinabart was quoted as saying he was driving east on Route 50 at about 8:15 when Turbin stepped in front of his pickup truck.

Schwinabart was lodged in Mineral County Jail at Keyser overnight, and Cpl. Webley said an involuntary manslaughter charge would be filed against him today.

Boys Admit They Stole Four Cars, Wrecked Two

Five Teenagers Are Arrested

Five teenage boys were arrested yesterday by detectives who said they had admitted stealing four cars in less than three days, and wrecking two of the vehicles while joy-riding.

Lt. James E. Van, head of the Detective Bureau, said two of the boys, both 15 years old, were released in custody of their parents pending court action. The other three, the oldest of whom is 18, were held in City Jail.

Van said co-operation between patrolmen and detectives caused the arrest of the boys after a rifle target which an officer had given to one of the boys was found in a stolen car.

Target Found In Car

The boy was quoted as saying he and three companions drove the car around Cumberland for several hours before abandoning it on North Mechanic Street early Wednesday.

When police discovered the car and found a paper rifle target inside, Officer Charles W. Thompson said he had given a batch of targets of that type to a boy who had asked for them a few days earlier. Thompson operates a shooting gallery on North Mechanic Street.

Officer Walter P. Dennison arrested the youth, who reportedly told Detective Roy C. Hawse he had been involved in the theft. Officer Gordon Hite picked up two other boys, and Detective Leo E. P. Law arrested two more.

Van said the boys admitted stealing a 1949 sedan owned by Donald Hite, Corriganville, from a parking lot in South Cumberland Wednesday night.

The group drove to Keyser, W. Va., where they picked up another 1949 car which attracted the attention of a policeman when they drove it across the Keyser-McCoole bridge into Maryland without headlights.

Crash At High Speed

When the officer gave chase, they abandoned the car and returned to the vehicle they had stolen earlier and sped back toward Cumberland.

At Pinto, they said, a tractor-trailer truck forced them off the highway while they were travelling at an estimated 95 miles an hour. The car swerved on the soft shoulder and finally struck a utility pole.

None of the boys was injured but the car was practically demolished. State Police found it a few hours later and notified the owner.

The boys, meanwhile, had left the scene and hiked through the woods to Cresaptown, some three miles away. There they stole a car owned by Paul Schramm of Cresaptown.

The 17-year-old said he drove the other boys to their homes in Cumberland and Corriganville, then turned the car over to a 15-year-old companion.

City Owned Buildings Will Be Inspected By Engineer

Annual inspections of all city owned buildings will be made by the city engineer, according to Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property.

Results of the inspections by City Engineer C. R. Nuzum will provide the city with information needed to maintain its buildings in good repair.

Data from the inspections will be noted on standard inspection sheets which lists all structural parts and service equipment of a building.

If any part of the building is not up to standard, it will be listed on the report, together with an estimate of the cost of reconditioning.

The reports, Mrs. Roeder said, will provide the department with essential information needed when budgets for building maintenance are set up.

Since the urgency of the work is indicated on the report, it will also save money as funds available will be used to make the most urgent repairs, and allow other less necessary work to wait until it can be incorporated into future budgets.

Regular inspections will also be made by the Fire Department to check on fire hazards.

Maryland To Help Observe World Health Day April 7

World Health Day will be observed Tuesday, April 7, with the Maryland State Health Department joining the World Health Organization in its program "attainment of all peoples of the highest possible level of health."

Four members of the Health Department have been selected to take part in the Influenza Study Program being carried out by the World Health organization. Instituted in 1948, the program is designed to improve specific diagnosis and reporting of influenza throughout the world.

In the United States, the program operates under an advisory committee composed of representatives of the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, the armed services, the Department of Defense, the Bureau of Animal Industry and the Department of Agriculture.

The major objective of the program is to bring to the attention of health authorities the earliest posible information concerning outbreaks of influenza in any part of the world. Purpose of the information is to make possible the ultimate preparation and use of vaccines specifically for the type of disease occurring in any area, in the hope that pandemic outbreaks throughout the world may be prevented or mitigated.

The representatives of the Health Department working on this study are Dr. James R. Strain, Epidemiologist, and county health officers, Dr. William R. Cameron of Washington County, Dr. Charles R. Hayman of Harford County, and Dr. Alan D. Houser of St. Mary's County.

As a representative of the Association of State and Territorial Health Officers, Dr. Robert H. Riley will attend the National Conference on World Health at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D. C., April 6-8. Dr. Riley is director of the State Health Department.

Civic Elections Planned Monday By Two Groups

Cresaptown, LaVale Residents To Vote

Both the Cresaptown and LaVale Civic Improvement Associations will hold elections Monday.

Five men have been nominated for officers of the Cresaptown Civic Improvement Association, which administers the community's water supply system. Nominees, two of whom will be elected, are Philip Bowman, president, and Joseph Wenrich, water commissioner, both incumbents, and Arthur Ferguson, Louis Millholland and Charles Bird.

Vote At Water Office

The election will be held in the water office, next door to the Fire Hall, from 8 a. m. until 6 p. m. Some 484 registered adults who have lived in Cresaptown at least six months are eligible to vote.

Five directors for the LaVale Civic Improvement Association will be elected at the annual meeting, scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Monday at LaVale Fire Hall, according to J. J. Rowan, president, and J. R. Snyder, secretary. The nominating committee has not yet submitted a slate for this election.

The LaVale Civic Improvement Association has no powers over the comunity's water system as prevail in Cresaptown. Administration of the water system there is handled by LaVale Sanitary commission.

No Election's Needed

Another election to name three members of the Citizens Committee of the Mt. Savage Special Tax Area also originally was scheduled for Monday but no citizens have petitioned as candidates to oppose the incumbents.

Because of this lack of opposition, Colin C. Bowers, chairman of the Citizens Committee, said there will be no election in Mt. Savage until the first Monday in April, 1955. Other members of the Citizens Committe are Patrick Sullivan, vice-chairman; Thomas Stephens, secretary; Raymond Himmelright, treasurer, and Wilbur Logsdon. This committee administers the Mt. Savage street light system.

No election will be needed Monday for the Citizens Committee of Potomac Park either. Two committee members, Edward W. Shaffer, chairman, and Melvin W. Dean, secretary, have filed for new two-year terms. They will be installed for new two-year terms Monday night because no other residents seek the posts. The Citizens Committee administers the street lighting system and the water system used for fire protection in Potomac Park.

Fire Alarm Box Installed At Housing Unit

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker said the installation will be completed today. The box will be Number 647 and will be a first alarm for the South Cumberland Fire Station.

The master box is being installed on the First Street side of the housing development. Three auxiliary boxes will be installed later, so alarms may be turned in from other sections of the village.

Will Cost $500

The alarm box costs about $250 and installation will bring the cost of the unit to about $500.

Chief Parker said the master box is a spring-driven model of the latest design.

It is equipped with a telegraph key which could be used to supplement its usefulness. Codes could be set up, he explained, to bring needed equipment to the scene.

The chief explained that the department could adopt the signal 5-5-5 as a general alarm. When the numbers were tapped out on the telegraph key, it would pull every piece of equipment in the city to the scene.

If a company needs the aerial ladder company, but has enough men on hand to control the blaze, 6-6-6 would summon the ladder company.

Could Use Phones

Chief Parker said the master box is also equipped with a telephone jack to allow firemen to speak directly to the switchboard at Central Fire Company.
